STILL SEEK DEPUTY'S SLAYER

NATIONAL SOCIALIST PARTLY CHIEFTAIN IS HEAD NEW CABINET

ADOLF HITLER. STORMY PETREL OF GERMAN POLITICS, FORMS CABINET

BERLIN, Jan. 30.—(AP)—Adolf Hitler, National Socialist party chieftain, was appointed chancellor of Germany today and selected a cabinet which was sworn in immediately by President Paul Von Hinderburg.

The Nazi leader has achieved his ambition, but actually it is a compromise cabinet.

The president made him chancellor of Germany but surrounded him with conservatives like Alfred Hugenberg, the Nationalist chief, Franz Seldte and Franz von Papen. The former chancellor and confidant of the president.

On his part Hitler swore an oath of allegiance to the Republican constitution, reserving for himself in the cabinet the posts of minister of interior and minister without portfolio.

As one more safeguard the president left the army in the hands of General Werner Von Blomberg, a regular army man who was military expert for the German delegation to the disarmament conference.

Immediately the Nazis filled two of the most important political jobs with their own men. Walter Funk is the new head of the government press department and Clemens Lammers is state secretary in the office of the chancellor.

Political observers generally agreed that the new cabinet will encounter opposition from organized labor, but that is to be expected. The Centrist Reichstag members went into conference this morning to consider their position.

Th new cabinet depends upon Centrist support or toleration, the alternative to which probably would be dissolution of the Reichstag and indefinite postponement of a new election. As for the latter point, although the constitution stipulates an election must be held within sixty days of dissolution, some authorities contend that Article 48, the so-called "dictatorship clause of the constitution empowers the president even to postpone elections in time of emergency if he considers that the republic is endangered.

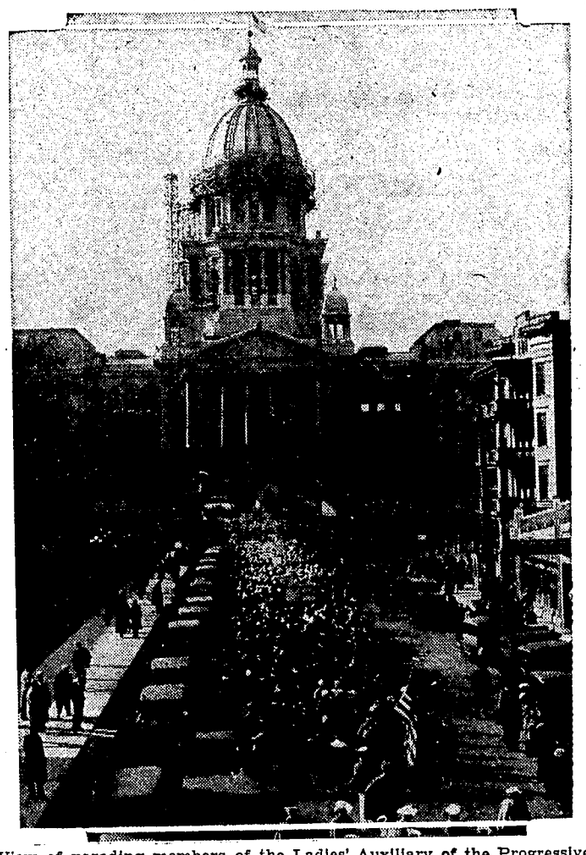

The Reichstag council of elders, meeting this afternoon, adopted a motion by the National Socialist members to reconvene the Reichstag on or before Feb. 7.

Rumor of Revolt.

The appointment of the new chancellor naturally was the principal matter of interest all day, but there also was a startling rumor that a group of high army officers headed by General von Scleicher had threatened to take the law into their own hands and

Recovers Large Sum for State In Suit at Vernon

AUSTIN, Jan. 30.—(AP)—R. G. Waters, assistant attorney general, returned today from Vernon where he recovered for the state $91,630 in a suit in district court against C. D. Green, former tax collector, and the American Surety Company of New York, surety on his official bond.

The judgment represented the state's portion of taxes collected and not accounted for. Of the amount $37,942 had been held in suspense in the state treasury. The attorney general today advised the treasurer to release these funds to the credit of the general fund. Waters said he expected the balance to be paid within a few days.

ROOSEVELT MEETS WITH ADVISORS TO SELECT CABINET

GLASS, WALSH AND FARLEY ARE CONSIDERED CERTAINTIES FOR PLACES

By FRANCIS M. STEPHENSON,
Associated Press Staff Writer.

WARM SPRINGS, Ga., Jan. 30.—(AP)—President-elect Roosevelt today called in his political staff to select the personnel of his new government. As the Democratic war lords assembled the word got about that the cabinet will be built around three men who now appear to be certainties—Senators Glass, of Virginia, for secretary of the treasury; Walsh of Montana for attorney general, James A. Farley of New York, for postmaster general.

Owen D. Young has informed the president-elect that for personal reasons he does not wish to be considered for secretary of state.

With Young making himself unavailable, the field appears again wide open for secretary of state. The names of Norman H. Davis, of New York, an authority on international economics, and Bernard H. Baruch, of New York, economist expert, again are in the limelight of speculation.

James A. Farley, headed the contingent of Democratic chieftians who arrived today and established quarters to work out the manifold task of picking of thousands of men for the new Democratic government.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 30.—(AP)—The New Orleans weather bureau today ordered small craft storm warnings in the Central Gulf Coast area, reading:

"Small craft warning indicated 8:30 a. m., Appalachicola, Fla., to Morgan City, La. Fresh to strong east and northeast winds Monday, probably squalls"

The disturbance in the gulf was reflected here in heavy rains and an overnight ten-point drop in temperature to 52 degrees.

SENATE COMMITTEE SPEEDS BEER BILL BACK FOR PASSAGE

MODIFICATION LAW FAVORED TWELVE TO FIVE BY SENATE FINANCE COM.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—(AP)—Brushing aside proposals for further hearings, the senate finance committee sent the Collier-Blaine 3.05 per cent beer and wine bill speeding back to the senate today with a favorable report.

The Volstead modification bill was approved 12 to 5 within little more than an hour of consideration in executive session.

Chairman Smoot said he would submit the committee's report today, which will put the bill before the Senate, ready for action as soon as parliamentary situation permits.

The $5 a barrel rate, the treasury secretary said, would produce more revenue than any other tax level.

The vote 12 to 5 by which the bill was eported follows:

For: Watson, Indiana; Reed, Pennsylvania; Shortridge, California; Bingham, Connecticut; La-Follette, Wisconsin and Hastings, Delaware, all Republicans, and Harrison, Mississippi; King, Utah; George, Georgia; Walsh, Massachusetts; Barkley, Kensucky; and Hull, Tennessee, Democrats.

Against: Smoot, Utah; and Keyes, New Hampshire, Republicans; and Connally, Texas; and Gore, Oklahoma, and Costigan, Colorado, Democrats.

The amendment offered in the senate by Senator Borah (R., Ida.) for an excess profit tax ranging from 10 to 30 per cent was rejected without a record vote.

A proposal to increase the tax from $5 to $6 a barrel was similarly defeated.

Senator Connally, (D., of Tex.) some time after the committee's action issued a statement explaining his vote against the bill.

"Three and two-tenths per cent beer by weight is equal to four per cent beer by volume," it said.

"This is substantially the same percentage as ordinary beer sold before the adoption of the eighteenth amendment, which I regard as intoxicating.

"So long as the eighteenth amendment is the law of the land it ought to be respected and enforced and I shall not vote for any measure either nullifying or evading it. x x x

CLARENCE CHANCE RELEASED ON BOND FAIRFIELD SUNDAY

THREE OTHERS CHARGED WITH MURDER STILL IN JAIL MONDAY NOON

Only one of the four men charged by indictment with murder in connection with the death of Dudley Williams, Dallas taxi driver, near Fairfield last Tuesday, had been released on bond, Sheriff Jim Sessions of Freestone county reported about 1 o'clock Monday afternoon.

Bond in the sum of $5000 each was set by Judge Lex Smith at the conclusion of a hearing on a writ of habeas corpus in the Eighty-seventh district court at Fairfield late Saturday afternoon.

Clarence Chance was released Sunday night, the sheriff reported, when his attorney presented a personal bond signed by Dallas bondsmen. Carl Chance, Lonnie Sykes and Olen Tyler were reported still in the Fairfield jail, and their attorneys had not indicated at noon Monday when their bonds would be completed.

Trials Scheduled in April.

Freestone county officials said Monday that the trials of the four men were scheduled for the April term of the Eighty-seventh district court before Judge Smith. The Seventy-seventh district court will be in session at Fairfield in February with Judge Fountain Kirby on the bench.

The hearing on the writ of habeas corpus was sued out on Wednesday when the defendants had been remanded to jail without bond after they had waved examining trials, and after the state had been granted a 24-hour postponement got under way Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock, and required four sessions of the court for completion.

Seventeen witnesses were used by the state in contesting the granting of the writ. At the Saturday morning session the shotgun and bloody clothing of Williams was admitted as evidence as well as five shotgun shells found near the body.

Although defense attorneys said that the bonds were too high, Chief Defense Counsel Howard Daily said that no appeal would be taken.

Ernest M. Steward, Fairfield grocer and undertaker, was the first witness at the Saturday morning session, and testified that he had examined a body found about five miles from Fairfield, described the location of the body in a ditch told that he brought the body to Fairfield and assisted in preparing it for burial. He said that he examined the clothing closely for

JAPANESE THREATEN QUIT LEAGUE UNLESS REPORT FAVORABLE

IF RECOMMENDATIONS AS TO CHINESE MATTER ARE NOT PLEASING WILL QUIT

TOKYO, Jan. 30.—(AP)—Foreign Minister Yasyua Uvhida was authoritatively reported today to have sent notice to the League of Nations that Japan's decision on whether to withdraw from the league will depend on the character of the proposed league's report on the Manchurian issue.

Count Uchita sent a message to Geneva which these sources said authorized the Japanese delegation to infofrm league officials that if paragraph four of article 15 of the league covenant was applied to the Manchurian controversy, Japan's decision on continuing membership would depend on the nature of the report called for in that paragraph.

(The league already has begun framing a report under this paragraph. It provides no recommendations for league action when efforts at conciliation of the dispute failed.)

The Japanese delegates, however, were reported empowered to continue efforts at conciliation if they consider it worthwhile.

Another Attack Repulsed

MUKDEN, Manchuria, Jan. 30.—(AP)—For the third time in four days, Japanese troops were reported to have repulsed a determined Chinese attack early today on Chiumenkow (pass of nine gates) in the great wall of China.

A Japanese communique said the Chinese suffered heavy losses and retreated to the westward.

Four Dead; One Wounded Result Jealous Rampage

ARDMORE, Okla., Jan. 30.—(AP)—Four persons were dead and a fifth was wounded as a result, officers said today, of a jealousy-maddened husband's murderous outburst.

Jesse Buckelew, 29, unemployed laborer, shot and killed his estranged wife, Flossie Buckelew, 25, her sister, Rica Webb, 22, and Glenn Fitzgerald, 41, oil field lease boss, and wounded Perry Owen, 30, before taking his own life.

The shootings occurred at Pike City in Western arter county Sunday morning.

As officers reconstructed the tragedy, Buckelew, described by Pike City acquaintances as extremely jealous of all who knew his wife or her sister, went first to Fitzgerald's home.

Officers said Fitzgerald was called to his door and shot with a shotgun.

Apparently, Buckelew then took Fitzgerald's automobile and drove to Owen's home.

Owen, suspicious of so early a caller, opened the door cautiously, possibly saving his life by so doing. Owen was wounded about the eye by a shotgun charge that grazed his head.

Then, officers said, Buckelew walked to his wife's home, shooting her as she lay in bed asleep, and then pursued and killed the sister, who fled after the first shot.

Buckelew's body was found at his wife's bedside, two shotguns lying nearby.

HEADLIGHT TESTING LAW REPEAL PASSED BY HOUSE MONDAY

BILL INTRODUCED TO GIVE CITIES PART OF AUTO REGISTRATION FEES

AUSTIN, Jan. 30.—(AP)—A bill to repeal a law requiring the testing of motor vehicle headlights as a prequisite to registration of the vehicle was passed in the house of representatives today by an overwhelming vote.

The bill, passed 118 to 7, received more than enough votes to put it into immediate effect if it receives 21 votes in the senate. Its passage at this time, however, would afford little relief because of the shortness of the time remaining in which motor vehicles may be registered.

The headlight testing law was referred to as a "joke" by sponsors of the bill, who stated it was a legal means by which the motor vehicle operator of the state were assessed 25 cents and for which they received nothing in return.

Consideration of rules occupied the senate. The senators voted against a rule proposed by the house that would restrict the introduction of bills to the first 45 days of the session unless permission was granted for their introduction in a four-fifths affirmative record vote. After lengthy discussion the proposed rules were referred back to the rules committee.

The house engrossed a bill to move the headquarters of the board of pardons and paroles from Austin to Huntsville. The vote was 74 to 54. A move by Repre-

WOMAN IS CHARGED WITH MURDER DEATH OF RHOME DEPUTY

OPERATOR QUITAQUE TOURIST CAMP ARRESTED IN CHILDRESS SUNDAY

DECATUR, Jan. 30.—(AP)—Mrs. Ida Hunsucker, who fled from Rhome with two men Friday after the slaying of Deputy Sheriff Joe Brown, was charged with murder here today.

Faye Pennington, 16, Dallas, and G. C. Hawthorne, 34, unemployed mattress builder of Memphis, Texas, who were arrested with Mrs. Hunsucker in Childress Sunday and brought here for questioning, were charged with being accessories to murder.

The complaints did not name a victim. They were filed before Justice W. H. Stroud and were signed by Sheriff Tom Faith.

Shortly before the filing of charges, Mrs. Hunsucker and Hawthorne were taken to Dallas for further questioning.

Mrs. Hunsucker, a Quitaque tourist camp proprietor, retold to Wise county authorities Monday the flight from Rhome and her subsequent arrest in Childress.

DECATUR, Jan. 30.—(AP)—After relating to Wise county officers how she was forced to accompany two men who fatally shot Deputy Cheriff Joe Brown at Rhome Friday, Mrs. A. C. Hu... tourist camp proprietor ... que, Texas, was taken t... this afternoon.

At the outskirts of Rhome, the woman related, an officer stepped out into the road and Meeks stopped the car. She said they were taken to a barbershop.

The officer had called the sheriff's office at Decatur and was told by the long distance operator that she would call him back.

At that moment, said Mrs. Hunsucker, the smaller of the two men addressed as "Reed" drew a gun and struck at the officer. The woman said that in the scuffle the

FORMER CONGRESSMAN WINS SEAT LEFT VACANT BY DEATH OF CONGRESSMAN GARRETT

HOUSTON, Jan. 30.—(AP)—Joe H. Eagle's overwhelming victory in Saturday's Eighth Texas district congressional election was recorded today unofficially as authorities prepared to make an official canvass of the returns.

Eagle won by a landslide, under the final unofficial tabulation of returns, over a field of 32 opponents. The last tabulation gave him 23,030 votes, as against 6,579 for Chester H. Bryan, formerHarris county judge, and 5,572 for Robert L. Cole, who sought the united "dry" support. Both Eagle and Bryan ran on platforms calling for repeal of national prohibition.

The only Republican in the race Clarence Miller, had 426 votes in the unofficial tabulation.

Eagle, a former congressman, who served from 1913 to 1921, ran on a platform calling for repeal of national prohibition and for payment of the soldiers' bonus.

He came to Texas some 40 years ago from Kentucky, his native state.

Meanwhile, in the Houston municipal race, the official returns as announced by the city Democratic executive committee, showed former Mayor Oscar F. Holcombe victor in the mayoralty race over the incumbent, Walter E. Monteith, and returned Water Commissioner J.H.B.House,Street and Bridge Commissioner S. A. Starkey, and City Controller Marry Giles, to office. Allie Anderson, on the basis of the official returns, had succeeded Andy Delery as fire commissioner, and D. Barker had retained his post as land and tax commissioner.

Two of 15 proposed charter amendments, offered in a special city election coincident to the congressional election, failed of passage.

The congressional election was held to fill the unexpired term of the late Congressman Daniel E. Garrett, and also to select Mr. Garrett's successor for the new congress.

EDOUARD DALADIER COMMISSIONED SET UP NEW GOVERNMENT

LEADER RADICAL SOCIALIST PARTY STARTS ADMITTEDLY HARD TASK

PARIS, Jan. 30.—(AP)—Resolute and energetic Edouard Daladier got off to a good start today in the difficult task of building a cabinet likely to draw France out of the financial slough of despond.

The yeteran minister, who regained leadership of the radical socialist party after the downfall of Edouard Herriott, sounded out Joseph Paul-Boncour, whose government was overthrown Saturday; Camille Chautemps, whose short-lived cabinet two years ago included Daladier; Anatole De Monzie, another ministerial colleague, and other left bloc associates.

Daladier, who has long aspired to the premiership, was requested by President Albert Lebrun yesterday to attempt to form a new cabinet and began his task immediately. Resuming the negotiations today, he was seeking Socialists in the course of the morning. Socialist bolts from the left bloc caused the Paul-Boncour and Herriot ministeries' downfalls in the past month and a half.

As the situation required a quick answer, it was doubtful that the Socialists would accept portfolios under Daladier. He was determined to form a cabinet tonight or Tuesday at the latest. He has already offered Leon Blum, leader of the Socialists, a cabinet post.

If the Socialists refuse to join,

TUESDAY, MIDNIGHT, IS LAST DAY TO PAY TAXES WITHOUT PENALTIES; PAYMENTS SLOW

City and county tax-payers are rushing the city and county tax collector's offices as the time-limit for the payment of taxes without the penalties and interest approaches

Taxes not paid by midnight Tuesday night will become delinquent.

Payments have been slow, R. L. Harris, county tax collector, and J. M. Pugh, city tax collector, announced Monday morning. The city office will be open until 6 o'clock Monday night and until midnight Tuesday night. The county office at the court house will be open until 9 o'clock Monday night and until midnight Tuesday night.

There had been 787 poll taxes paid in the city early Monday morning, 1,000 less than at the same time last year. This reduction is despite the approaching city elections.

There had been 2,700 poll taxes issued early Monday in the county office, a sharp reduction as compared with last year.

Tax Collector Harris stated Monday, however, that considering the 25 per cent slash in taxes as effected by the county commissioners and the 10 cent reduction in the road levy, the tax collections this year approximate those of last year, only a slight decrease in proportion being noted.

Automobiles can be registered Feb. 1, according to the state regulations, without penalties and interest. State, county and city taxes will become delinquent Feb. 1, but auto registrations do not become delinquent until Feb. 2, Mr. Harris pointed out.

There had been 3,600 automobiles registered in the county early Monday and 400 trucks. The auto registrations are approximately the same as on the same date last year, while a sharp reduction is noted in the number of trucks registered, deputies in charge of the registration booth announced.

GROUNDWORK FOR BRITISH WAR DEBTS DISCUSSION IS LAID IN GEORGIA VILLAGE

By FRANCIS M. STEPHENSON

WARM SPRINGS, Ga., Jan. 30.—(AP)—The Roosevelt idea for restoration of world trade and financial stability in return for relief to the war debtors will soon be on its way across the seas.

In this remote southern mountain village the next president of the United States talked things over in plain language yesterday with Ambassador Sir Ronald Lindsay of Great Britain who sails Tuesday for London to relay the message.

The announcement from the three hour conference simply said: "The British ambassador and Mr. Roosevelt have had a wholly informal and unofficial but very satisfactory conversation concerning tentatively the arrangements for the coming meetings in Washington. It is hoped that it will be possible to start these meetings early in March."

That was all, but there is no reason here to believe that Mr. Roosevelt budged in any way from his determination to talk separately and personally with individual representatives of the European debtors on the question of relief.

Also, there is no sign to indicate that he intends to deviate from his announced policy to link the forthcoming world economic conference agenda with the debts conference.

Because of his attitude it is regarded as likely that the president-elect indicated he would be glad to have Ramsay MacDonald, the British prime minister, come to Washington for the debts talk. However, Sir Roland intimated, to newspapermen that this would be very difficult for Mr. MacDonald because of his manifold duties.

Talking freely with newspapermen before the conference, the British ambassador recognized a conflict of ideas on debts and eco-

Snowfall broke all records for Yosemite National Park with a season's total of 148 inches, since settled to much less.

In the north, gales and high water were reported subsiding along the Oregon coast, while the storm conditions prevailed in Washington.

Every available snowplow in Southern California was turned to the rescue of the hundreds of marooned along the rim of the world drive in the San Bernordino mountains after they watched the Lake Arrowhead winter sports

A bill to give cities a share in the motor vehicle registration receipts was introduced. The cities would share in the fund now allotted to counties on the basis of the number of automobiles registered by owners who lived in cities.

Chain stores would be taxed from $1 to $35 according to the number of stores in a bill offered by E. G. Palmer of Normangee.

Representative Dennis Ratliff of Haskell introduced a bill to place mutual assessment insurance associations under supervision of the insurance commission.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—(AP)—The house today passed the Glass-Steagall bill to continue for another year the provision to broaden the base of paper eligible for re-discount purposees at federal reserve banks, thereby releasing gold reserves.

Tariff Commission Seeking Rate Basis

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—(AP)—With the house ways and means committee considering whether to boost duties against countries that have deserted the gold standard, the tariff commission began a study today to determine if it should adopt the American selling price as the base of tariff levies.

Adoption of this method of valuation which would automatically increase tariffs, was advocated by Matthew Woll, president of the American wage earners protective conference. He described the United States as an "international dumping ground" for commodities produced by cheap labor.

The ways and means committee, approaching the end, of its hearings on the Hill bill, listened to the contention of James W. Bevans of New York, representing the National Council of Importers and Traders, that decreasing imports did not bear out the assertion that previously had been made by other witnesses that depreciated currencies were increasing the importations of foreign merchandise.

Free Silver, for Which William Jennings Bryan Carried Flaming Torch Two Decades Ago, Subject of Bitter Debate in Upper House.

Although they were defeated by a vote of 56 to 18, two measures, designed to bring silver into its own in America, introduced before the United States Senate recalled the "roaring 90's" when William Jennings Bryan carried the flaming torch about the nation for free silver. The measures were sponsored by Senator Burton K. Wheeler, of Montana, and Senator Huey P. Long of Louisiana, as amendments to the banking bill of Senator Carter Glass of Virginia. Senator Long's proposal provided for the purchase of silver by the Treasury whenever the price fell below the ratio of 15-1, while Senator Wheeler's measure called for the free and unlimited coinage of silver at the ratio of 16-1, practically the identical demand made by William Jennings Bryan in his campaign platform during the Presidential campaign of 1896, when, as the Democratic nominee, he opposed McKinley. Three times Bryan battled for the Presidency on the free silver platform, and three times he was defeated. And now, after all these years, his proposals are being taken from the shelf and dusted off to serve as the bone of contention between opposing factions. Expert opinion is divided as to the merits of free silver. Proponents of bimetallism say that Bryan was born before his time, and that the ultimate triumph of his ideas is as sure as death and taxes; while opponents of the idea aver that the silver proposal would bring only disaster, depreciating American currency and rendering it valuable only for wall paper.

Girl of Ten Is Faithful to Trust And Saves Babies

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—(AP)—Eileen Murphy, who is only 10, fought a way through smoke and flame today and saved three small brothers from death.

Eileen was left in charge of the little boys when her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John J. Murphy, went to visit neighbors. About 1 a. m., after she had dozed for a few moments, she awoke to find smoke filling the room from a fire beneath the floor.

A crib on which Edmund Murphy, 2, was lying, was aflame. Picking the baby up, she ran out on a second story veranda and deposited him. Then she ran back through the smoke and flame and carried out John, 6, and James, 5.

Standing on the veranda, she screamed for help, until firemen came and carried her and her brothers down ladders. John suffered serious burns of the legs, while James was less seriously burned.

Later she admitted she might have been led through the barbershop to the waiting automobile.

A short distance from Rhome, she said, one of the men declared they had "a tough break."

Four miles south they turned to the left and drove through a wheat field. They drove a long distance, Mrs. Hunsucker related. The men cut down fences and some telephone lines. At one time they wandered along the banks of a river or creek. Once they stopped near a farm house to repair a tire.

The men did not discuss the affair in her presence, Mrs. Hunsucker declared, but frequently moved away from the car to confer over something.

Reached Lake.

Finally they reached a lake, the woman said, and she saw a sign that said "Lake Worth" although officers are convinced it was Lake Dallas. The men got out of the car, giving her $3 when she protested she had no money to buy gasoline.

She decided to go to Denton and drove for a long time, reaching the outskirts of a city she found later to be Fort Worth.

Mrs. Hunsucker said she went to Dallas to get the girl, whom she had known for three or four years. The girl formerly lived in Quitaque. The pair then drove to Midway, near Huntsville, to visit A. C. Hunsucker, who is serving a three year term for theft, the woman said. Her suband has been at the Ferguson prison farm since last January.

Mrs. Hunsucker visited her husband about 8:30 o'clock Saturday morning, told him of the shooting and started northward about 10 o'clock.

She said they went to Dallas, Fort Worth and Weatherford and spent Saturday night at a tourist camp between Weatherford and Palo Pinto, going in that vicinity because Mrs. Hunsucker has an uncle who once lived there and from whom she hoped to borrow some money.

Started for Home.

Early Sunday they started for home, selecting a route through Albany and Vernon. At the latter place they picked up a hitch-hiker. He bought three gallons of gasoline, related the woman.

As they reached Childress two men stopped the car and one said to the man, "We want you."

Mrs. Hunsucker said the hitch-hiker got out of the car and talked to the men. The girl said, "We'd better get out of here," the woman related, and they drove to a filling station, leaving the hitch-hiker with the men.

The woman bought two gallons of gasoline and drove out of town but was overtaken after a short distance by the men who proved to be officers.

Mrs. Hunsucker has five sons, she revealed, four of whom are at home. The fifth, Glen, was last heard from in Oklahoma and has been away from home for about eight months, she said.

Stolen Auto Recovered.

The Ford automobile belonging to Hood Cheney, stolen here Dec. 29, was recovered at Marlin Saturday, it was announced at the Sheriff's office Monday afternoon.

possible marks of identification, and later turned the clothing over to officers. He testified that he also saw a hat and turned it over to the sheriff's department.

He told of examing the wounds while preparing the body for burial and stated that the left side of the head was torn away, and the upper jaw was shattered and the teeth loose, and that there was a smaller wound on the right side of the head in the back. He said that there were no breaks in the skin of the face. He said that he was not qualified to say which was an entrance and which an exit wound, but said that the wounds were caused by gun shots and were not incisive. He testified that there was a sear on the left breast, and a large bruise on the left flank. Defense questioning brought out the fact that the sear was caused by a shot.

Judge Smith questioned the witness concerning the holes in the hat found at the scene of the death of Williams.

Clothing As Evidence.

The state asked that the clothing be brought to the courtroom and identified as they wished to introduce it as evidence in the case. The hat, bloody shirt, vest, coat and trousers were brought in and identified.

The defense said there were no further questions and the witness was excused.

Defense and state counsel conferred in an attempt to agree on some further testimony but the attempt failed.

Mrs. H. E. Murchison of Dallas was placed on the stand, although the defense objected to the fact that she had been in the courtroom for all the testimony. The state replied that her testimony would not relate to previous evidence, and the questioning was permitted.

Mrs. Murchison was sworn and testified that she was the sister of Carl and Clarence Chance, and that she owned a Plymouth sedan, bought in June 1932 and registered in Dallas. She said that she had seen the car when she came to Fairfield, and that she had not seen it since about 4:30 last Tuesday morning, and that Carl and Clarence Chance drove off in it from 4625 San Jacinto street, Dallas.

Own No Property.

She was questioned concerning her acquaintance with Olen Tyler and Lonnie Sykes. She said that her brothers did not own property, that her parents were living and that their only property was some vacant lots whose present value would not exceed $1,000. She also said that as far she she knew neither her brothers, nor Sykes or Tyler had any rich or influential friends.

She also stated that she was acquainted with Sykes' sister, and that all of the four had about the same circle of friends.

Judge Smith asked if she knew who owned the apartment house in which her brothers lived, and she replied in the negative, but denied that the place was owned by her brothers.

Defense attorneys asked her if she had not supplied money to the defendants for their incidental expenses while they were in jail and she replied in the affirmative.

Justice of Peace J. E. Lott was recalled to the stand, and testified that he found the lining of a hat hanging on a tree near where Williams' body was found, along with some hair, at a distance of some 5 or 6 feet from the ground. He said that he saw a hat near the body, and identified the hat offered by the state.

Defense questioning brought out the fact that the driver of the Fortson Grocery Company truck was the first to see the body.

Sister Recalled.

Mrs. Murchison was recalled to the stand and asked if Carl Chance were not under bond at this time in a felony case; the defense objected to the question but the objection was overruled and exception noted; she replied that she was not positive about the bond. She was asked if Carl were not under an appeal bond on a case now pending before the Circuit Court of Appeals at New Orleas. She replied that she did not know and that amount of his bond was unknown. She said that Carl had been under bond within the past two years but the amount of the bond was unknown.

She said that Clarence Chance had been under a felony bond within the past two years but did not know the amount. She said that she did not know whether or not Tyler or Sykes had been under bond.

Under defense questioning she said that Carl Chance remained in jail for 42 days until she paid the premium for a surety bond. She said that she was unable to pay for another premium, and that she was employed as a waitress in a cafe and had been for the past seven years.

She said that she paid a fee of $500 for the bond, and that she was still paying on it.

Amount Bond Unknown

Under questioning by Judge Smith she said that she did not know the amount of Clarence Chance's bond but that she had paid a fee of $100, to a professional bondsman. She said that she did not know what percentage the bondsmen charged. She admitted that she had made all of the bonds for her brothers.

After some delay, Jim Wasson, deputy sheriff, was placed on the stand. He identified some shotgun shells as those which were handed the sheriff at the scene of the murder, and identified them as 12 guage ammunition.

The shells were offered in evidence and a defense objection was overruled.

W. F. Huckaby was recalled to the stand and identified the shotgun shells as being identical with those he saw near the body. He also testified that the trousers of the dead man were unbuttoned but that no part of his person was exposed.

Bonner Jones, negro, was placed on the stand. He was arrested with the four defendants last Tuesday morning. He said that he lived at Young's and worked for Roger Young. He said that he heard about the dead man sometime Tuesday, and later said that he heard the arresting officers talking about the matter. He detailed his actions on last Tuesday, relating that he had spent the night on the farm with his brother, and then after breakfast at the Young house had gone about his job of feeding cattle at two barns and then came back to Young's store.

Asked Negro the Way.

He said that he did not get to the store but was accosted by four men, whom he identified as the defendants, who wanted him tood. District Clerk J. H. Harding reported that a total of 39 indictments had been returned by the investigators.

W. V. Geppert, former county attorney, was the second speaker for the defense, and declared that the evidence in the case did not meet the requirements for capital cases since it failed to connect them with the crime until the day the body was found. He declared that the higher courts had held that in an "unexplained killing," the defendants was entitled to bail.

Only Question Amount Named

Geppert declared that the only question before the court was the amount of the bond, pointing out that if it were set too high and they could not make it, the result would be the same as if they had been denied bond. He said that the bond should be in conformity with the crime and only heavy enough to insure their presence at the trial, and recommended the sum of $2,000 each.

Harold Williford, former county judge, closed for the state by recalling the ancient laws which did not always permit bail, and declaring that one truth was unquestioned and that was that the rights of the public were superior to the rights of the individual. He said that circumstance could prove cases as well as facts. He declared that the evidence showed malice and also evidence of flight. He appealed for justice to be done the people of Freestone and Dallas counties, and the men remanded to jail without bond.

Daily Closed for Defense.

Howard Daily closed the arguments for the defense. He said that he was a native of the county, and that he had no misgivings over the feelings of the citizenry of the county and admitted that they were properly incensed over the slaying. He declared that a jury would say "not guilty" if the defendants were tried on the evidence presented in the hearing, and that the evidence was as much against the witnesses as against the defendants.

He reviewed the law on circumstantial evidence and said that he had no apologies to offer for appearing for his clients. He said that the only connecting evidence was the track of the tread of the tire found, and the time it was made had not been proven. He said that he could conceive of an outraged citizenry seeking some one to punish for a crime, but that the writ of habeas corpus could not be suspended. He denied that there was evidence of flight presented, and said that the "Dallas desperadoes" had been without even a knife when arrested. He declared that there was no evidence of a spot slaying.

Asked Small Bond.

He declared that the men should be released on their own recognizance from the evidence presented; and that if a bond were set it should be nominal only, and not to exceed $1000 or $1500.

Judge Lex Smith in handing down his decision said that the case would probably be tried at the next term of court, and admitted that it was a circumstantial evidence case with an unexplained death. He said that bail would be granted but that it was the duty of the court to set bond in such an amount as to insure the presence of the men at the trial. He commented upon the extremes of the requests of the state and defense, and then announced that bond was set at $5,000 each, adding that he believed that to be a bond such as would be demanded by the appellate courts.

He remanded the prisoners into the custody of the sheriff.

The habeas corpus hearing ended the January term of the Eighty-seventh district court, and it will be followed on February 6 with a term of the Seventy-seventh district court with Judge Fountain Kirby presiding.

show them the way to Streetman by Stewart's Mill. He said that he told them that he knew the way.

He said that he did not tell anyone where he was going, because he was through with the work until afternoon, and that he understood someone to say that "Mr. Roger" wanted him to show the men the road. He said they started off and as they reached Grady Gunter's they were forced to stop and repair the battery holder which had been damaged by dragging over the deep ruts. They secured some bailing wire from Gunter and then continued. He said they stopped several times to repair the battery box, and were arrested the last time they stopped near Cottonwood Creek. He said that he had never seen the black coupe.

Under further questioning he said that he saw Roger Young some 20 or 30 minutes before he saw the four men, and that he understood he was preparing to go to Dallas, and that he was sure he had left the place before he (Jones) went off with the defendants.

Objection Sustained.

Defense attorneys objected to the state asking "Who told you not to tell anything about the black coupe?" and the objection was sustained. He testified that a wide tired wagon was used on the Young farm and that he had seen someone hitching up a team Tuesday morning but was unable to identify them. Defense attorneys did not question the witness.

Wallace McGuire was recalled to the stand and said that the dead man's trousers were unbuttoned when he viewed the body and that no one else was there when he arrived at the scene. He also identified the shotgun shells offered by the state. He was not questioned by defense attorneys.

Judge Smith annouhced that unless the remaining witnesses were available by 1 o'clock the case would be closed as he recessed the court for the noon hour.

Undertaker Is Witness.

At the afternoon session, John David Burleson, Wortham undertaker, was the only witness presented. He said that he viewed the body of Williams in the rear of the McElvaney-Steward store in Fairfield, and that he sutured up wounds in the head, and described the nature of the wounds. He said that he was not qualified to say which was the entrance and which the exit wounds. He testified concerning the broken jaw and loosened teeth. There were no wounds in the skin of the face he reported. He reported another small wound on the left breast and a bruise on the belt line on the left side. He attributed the loosened condition of the teeth to the crushed frontal bone.

He testified that there was one gash over the left eye of the corpse, and that the body was not stiff; he said there were no marks of violence on the mouth to indicate the teeth had been loosened by a blow or kick. He also said that a blow after death was not likely to cause a discoloration.

His testimony was accepted by the defense as expert.

When the state rested, Attorney Daily said that he did not feel that it was necessary for the defense to introduce any evidence. After a request for a consultation with the defendants in an adjoining room had been refused, a recess of five minutes was allowed for consultation of defense attorneys.

On the return to the defense attorneys to the court room, Daily asked the judge whether they should argue the amount of bond or whether bond should be granted, to which the judge replied that both questions might be presented.

Douglas Opened Arguments.

W. M. Douglas of Fairfield, associate defense counsel, opened the arguments and declared that there was insufficient evidence to show the connection of the four defedants with the murder, declared that some of the state witnesses had contradicted each other, and that only the most circumstantial of evidence had been presented, and offered to cite cases on record of where bond was allowed in such cases.

Judge Smith declared that he understood the rule in a habeas corpus hearing to be that bail must be granted unless there was evidence sufficient to indicate that a jury trial would result in a capital penalty.

Bowlen Bond, county attorney, opened for the state, and declared that the attempt to escape from the country through devious routes was evidence of flight, that there was no conflict in the evidence, and that the circumstances of the murder were evident. He declared that Williams had been "taken for a ride" and Freestone county had been selected as the "depository." He concluded with an appeal that the men should be denied bail and remanded to jail until tried.

Grand Jury Reports.

The hearing was recessed for a few minutes while the grand jury of Freestone made its final report and was discharged. The foreman stated that they had to present their final report and nine indictments. They were thanked by Judge Smith and finally discharged.

Owen D. Young Not Available For New Cabinet

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—(AP)—Owen D. Young has informed President-elect Roosevelt that he cannot be considered for a place in the new cabinet, assolcates of the General Electric chairman said today.

At Mr. Young's office it was learned that he had conveyed this information to Mr. Roosevelt in a letter which would not be made public here.

In this communication, it was said, Mr. Young gave the same reasons he offered last year when he withdrew his name from consideration as a possible Democratic presidential candidate, namely, business affairs and personal considerations.

set up a "directorate" as a prelude to restoration of the monarchy.

This rumor, emphatically denied in official circles, was offered in explanation of the unprecedented haste with which the Hitler cabinet was formed.

The story was that General von Hammerstein, chief of staff, warned President Von Hindenberg yesterday that unless the period of political uncertainty were ended quickly there was the greatest anger of a "generals' putsch."

It received credence among the National Sicialists and in some diplomatic circles. Those who believed the report recalled that in 1920 General Von Hammerstein prvented the success of the so-called "Kapp Rebellion" in an anti-Republican movement with which the general's father-in-law, General von Leuttwitz was identified.

Policy of Friendship.

The new chancellor's closest advisers said he will pursue a policy of friendship for the United States, with the possible expection of Italy, he admires more than any other foreign country. General von Blomberg, the defense minister, since he visited the United States in 1930, never has ceased to praise that country whenever the opportunity offered.

Herr Seldte, minister of labor, has read much about conditions in America and last November was on the point of making a tour of the United States. Herr von Krosigk, the finance minister, is well and favorably known in American financial circles, and Baron von Neurath, the foreign minister, is familiar to American statesmen.

But against this pro-American lineup must be set the plans of Her Hugenberg, minister of economics, for lowering interest rates on foreign private loans, and for sharply curtailing imports.

France Unafraid.

PARIS, Jan. 30.—(AP)—Official quarters, unalarmed by Adolf Hitler's accession to power in Germany, consider that the Nazis likely will be more moderate than speeches have indicated. The French are carefully watching developments and are especially interested in Hitler's attitude concerning disarmament and the League of Nations.

Great Britain Perturbed.

LONDON, Jan. 30.—(AP)—Great Britain turned anxious eyes toward the continent today as Adolf Hitler swung into power in Germany.

Whether France would counter the German Nationalist victory with the setting up of a similar Nationalist regime became a question of great interest in political circles.

No Apprehension in Washington.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—(AP)—Adolf Hitler's elevation to the chancellorship in Germany, while something of a surprise to official Washington, apparently created little apprehension as to its effect on international relations.

he may turn to the moderates. In that event Francois Pietri, minister in several cabinets, may be offered the post of finance minister—of chief importance now because of a mounting deficit and pending action on the attempt to balance the budget.

Tax Increase Cause.

It was Finance Minister Henry Cheron's plan for a five per cent increase in income and general taxes that caused the defeat of the Paul-Boncour government. Georges Bonnet, who succeeded Daladier as minister of public works under Paul-Boncour when Daladier became war minister, was also considered for the finance ministry.

Meanwhile police were taking precautions against renewed demonstrations proposed by thousands of taxpayers. A mass meeting was scheduled to protest against an increase in taxes. Demonstrations were held Sunday in Lyons, Nice and Quimper similar to those held here Saturday. Police battled with the crowds in Lyons and Nice and Republican guards and charged the Paris meeting, at which many were arrested.

Reports that Daladier was seeking almost dictatorial powers through the right of decree, as was granted Former Premier Raymond Poincare when his government stabilized the Franc, had the Socialists worried. This militated against the possibilty of them giving Daladier their support.

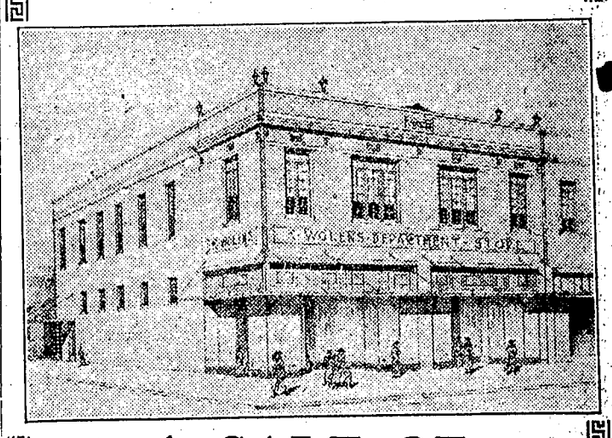

See No Debt Policy Change.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—(AP)—Diplomatic observers noted with interest today the selection of Edouard Daladier to form the new French cabinet, but were inclined to the opinion there would be no marked change in war debts policy if he were successful.

They based their view on the fact that Daladier was minister of war in the government which fell Saturday after a 40-day reign and that Daladier belongs to the same left group of parties as the defeated premier, Joseph Paul-Boncour.

BOND SET FOR MEN HELD IN CONNECTION FAIRFIELD KILLING

HABEAS CORPUS HEARING CONCLUDED AFTER NUMBER WITNESSES HEARD

Bond in the sum of $5,000 each was set for Clarence Chance, Carl Chance, Olen Tyler and Lonnie Sykes, all of Dallas, by Lex Smith, district judge of Fairfield, Freestone county, at the conclusion of the habeas corpus hearing at 2:50 this afternoon. The bonds had not been completed at press hour.

The four men are charged with murder in connection with the fatal shooting of Dudley Williams, Dallas taxi driver, whose lifeless body was found northeast of Fairfield early Tuesday morning.

John D. Burleson, Wortham undertaker, was the last witness at the hearing. Burleson testified concerning the nature of the wounds found on Williams' body.

The prosecution urged that the defendants be remanded to jail without bond while the defense took the position the prisoners should be released on their own recognizance.

The hearings started Friday afternoon and another session was held Friday night.

The five shotgun shells found near the body of Williams were introduced in evidence Saturday morning.

Mrs. H. E. Murchison, Dallas, sister of the Chance brothers, testifie relative to the financial ability of her brothers in making bail.

Bonner Jones, a negro, who is said to have shown the accused men the route from Young to Stewart's Mill Tuesday morning, and who was with the four men when they were arrested by Freestone county officers, detailed the route taken.

District Judge Smith ordered the one remaining witness to be heard to be present at 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Indictments Returned.

Indictments of murder were returned Friday morning against Carl Chance, Clarence Chance, Olen Tyler, and Lonnie Sykes by the Freestone county grand jury, and the capiases served and returns made Friday afternoon, officials reported late Friday.

Former County Judge Harold Williford assisted County Attorney Bowlen Bond in the examination of witnesses in the habeas corpus proceedings held before Judge Lex Smith in the Eighty-seventh district court at Fairfield Friday afternoon and night.

The hearing on the writ of habeas corpus sued for before Judge Smith on Wednesday by Howard Daily, attorney for the four men arrested in connection with the death of Dudley Williams of Dallas near Fairfield Tuesday morning, extended through a two hour session Friday afternoon, and for another two hour period Friday night, before recessing until 9 o'clock Saturday morning.

Daily announced prior to the start of testimony in the hearing that the application for a writ of habeas corpus was made before the return of the indictments by the grand jury, and that an agreement had been entered into with the prosecuting attorney whereby it was agreed that the indictments should be made a part of the application for all purposes. The indictments, capiases, and returns were presented and made a part of the evidence. The attorney for the defense also asked that one of the names of the applicants be changed to read, "James Watson alias Olen Tyler."

Ten Witnesses Present.

About ten witnesses were present when the list was announced by County Attorney Bowlen Bond at the start of the hearing and the oath was administered to them, and they were placed under the rule.

Mrs. Dudley Williams was the first witness called, and took the stand, obviously nervous. She said that she was the widow of the dead man, and resided at 2222 San Jacinto street in Dallas; had been in Dallas for five years, and had been married to Williams for about two and a half years. She said that her husband had been a taxi-driver, and employed by J. B. Nichols until about two weeks ago.

In response to questions by the prosecuting attorney, Mrs. Williams said that on January 23 she and her husband were at home all day, leaving only to get meals; that her husband was buried, and that the last time she had seen him alive was at a cafe at 819 Leonard street, Dallas, about midnight Monday.

Defense Objects.

The defense entered strenuous objections to her replying to a query as to where her husband had said he was going, but the objection was overruled and she said that he had announced that he was going to the Chance brothers' apartment at 4625 San Jacinto street. She said that she did not see her husband alive after that time, but about 10 o'clock Tuesday morning checked the cab stand and found that he was missing.

Again Daily entered strenuous objections despite the fact that Judge Smith had informed him that he might enter a complete list of exceptances to overruled objections—and declared that the defense was willing to admit that Williams was dead if that was what the state was attempting to prove.

The witness said that she did not know either of the Chance brothers, but that she had met Tyler, and knew Sykes. She pointed out Sykes among the defendants but pointed to one of the Chance brothers as Tyler.

She said that she and her husband left their home about 8 or 8:30 and went to a show, and then returned to a cafe on Leonard street, remaining there about thirty minutes or an hour and finally going home. She said that her husband had left the cafe before she did with the intention of going to the Chance apartment to collect a debt they owed him. She said that her husband did not own a car and had not for two and a half years.

Defense attorney again entered an objection to Mrs. Williams answering a question as to whether or not her husband was associated with the defendants, deg that it would only be a se, but the objection was uled.

Husband Out of Work.

er the questioning of Judge rd, assisting the county at- , the witness repeated her pr us testimony, and stated tha her husband had been out of work for two weeks before his death, that he was a taxi driver and that his last shift had been from 4 p. m. to 2 a. m. She also said that they had remained at home all day Monday leaving only to go to a show in the evening, and had no callers; after the show they went to the cafe and then she went on home.

She said that a friend of her husband's came over about 10 o'clock Tuesday morning to ask about him, and that about 1 o'clock she learned of his death, and came to Fairfield to identify his body, which was viewed in an undertaking establishment. She said that she learned of his death from the Dallas Dispatch. She also said that her husband had told her that he would be home in about an hour when he left her Monday night, but that she had not waited at the cafe for him, but had left word that she had gone on home. She said that her husband did not own a gun or a shotgun, and that he appeared composed when he left her.

Married Over Two Years.

Mrs. Williams gave her age as 26 and her husband's as 31, and said that he weighed about 190. The attorney for the defense again entered an objection to the line of questioning and called attention to the fact that she had been mistaken in her identification of one of the defendants.

Questioned by the defense, she said that she was Johnny Kirby before she married Williams, and that she had been married about two an a half years, and that they had been married by a minister. When the state objected to the line of questioning, Daily replied that he was questioning the credibility of the witness and would attempt to show that the pair were never married.

In reply to questions from the defense attorney, Mrs. Williams said that they were married at Durant, Okla., about two and a half years ago, and that Williams had secured a license and that they had been married by a minister. She said that she had a marriage certificate somewnere at home. She denied that she had told anyone since that time that she was not married, and denied that she had seen or heard of stories appearing in newspapers that said that she was not the wife of Williams but that she had been living with him. Said that she did not pay any attention to the papers. She said that she had lived in Greenville, Commerce and Sulphur Springs before coming to Dallas.

Tells of Previous Marriage.

She said that she had been married once before, was separated after about six months, and secured her divorce in Dallas, but did not remember the style of the suit or the attorney that handled it. She attempted to identify the picture show viewed Monday night with her husband, admitted that she knew the proprietor of the cafe on Leonard street. She named a driver called Barnett as the one she asked about her husband at the cab stand, and said that she did not see him in the courtroom. She denied that her husband was drunk or that he remained drunk a good portion of the time; she named two former employers of her husband, and denied that a renewal of his chauffer's license had been refused. She admitted that she knew that her husband had been to the penitentiary for conspiracy to violate the national prohibition law. She said that he was released on parole, and that he had never been indicted for a felony since that time. She admitted that he had used some liquor, but denied that he was drinking on Monday night. She said that she did not know whether or not her husband had any money. She said that she earned some money by renting out rooms in her home.

Taxi Driver is Witness.

Jack Adams, Dallas taxi driver, was the second witness. In his direct testimony he said that he knew all of the defendants, and had known them for about two years, and that in company with a companion he had gone to the Chance apartment at 4625 San Jacinto street in Dallas about 10 a. m. Tuesday, but did not see any of the defendants, and came back to town. He said that he had known Williams for about three years, and saw him on Monday night, about 8 or 8:30 o'clock; he said that he might have been drinking but that he was not intoxicated.

Adams said that Williams was unemployed at the time of his death, and that he had been intimate with him for a year, that they had worked at the same place, and lived in the same house. He said he moved about three months ago. He said he went to Williams' home about 10 o'clock Tuesday morning and found out that he was missing and later learned that he was dead and came to Fairfield with Mrs. Williams.

Adams said that he saw Williams every day and that his work did not require him to take trips out of town, and that he had made no long trips. He said that he saw the body of Williams in Fairfield and saw the wounds. He described the apparent nature of the wounds and said in his opinion they were sufficient to cause death.

Objection Overruled.

Defense attorney objected to the testimony about the wounds and objection was overruled. Daily asked Adams if he saw "Chief Justice Hughes" when he went to the Chance apartment, and on receiving a negative answer asked if he had seen "President Hoover."

Adams said that he knew no more of the case than he had told. He denied defense attorney's suggestion that Williams might have been patrolling the roads between Dallas and Fairfield with machine guns. He said that he had been out of work for a month or six weeks, and that he lived with his wife at 1803 Crockett street.

Continued questioning about his being unemployed brought an interpolation from Judge Smith who said that the fact that a man was employed or unemployed would have no weight with him in the case.

Adams said that he had never been convicted of a felony. He said that he knew Mrs. Williams well, and said that so far as he knew Williams had made no trips south of Dallas in the last four or five weeks.

He denied that he was doing a little "whiskey histing" (hijacking), and that Williams was not engaged in such as far as he knew. He said that he owned no gun or machine gun.

Morris Musick of Dallas, employed by the Thrift Packing Company was the third witness. He said that he had known Williams for about three months and was friendly with him. He said that he had known Tyler for about 5 years, Sykes two or three weeks, and knew the Chance brothers by sight. He said that he was in "Bill's Cafe" on Leonard street about 11 or 11:30 Monday night and saw Williams there. He said Mrs. Williams was not present.

He said that he stayed in the cafe about an hour or an hour and a half, and that while he was there Williams called a taxi, and after a few minutes left the cafe. He said that Williams said that he was going to see Carl Chance.

He said that Williams did not appear intoxicated Monday night. He said that he came to Fairfield Tuesday with Adams and Mrs. Williams, and saw the body, and described the nature of the wounds.

Defense questions brought some information as to the hours of his employment at the packing plant, and the fact that he had not been very busy there for several weeks. He said that as far as he knew Williams was not "histing" liquor, and that he was not employed.

Court Adjourned.

Judge Smith then adjourned the hearing until 7:30 p. m. and advised the attorneys to be ready for more progress during the night session.

Ward Keeton was the first witness at the night session and testified that he lived about 4 1-2 miles or 5 miles northeast of Fairfield on the Young road. He said that he saw the body of the dead man on Tuesday morning, and that before the body was found he saw two cars pass along the road, a coupe in the lead with two men in it, and a sedan with three in it, driving about 25 miles per hour, and about ten steps apart. He said they passed about 7:30 in the morning, and that one of the cars had the lights on. He said he did not see the cars stop. He said two of the men in the sedan were sitting in the front seat and another in the back, and that he saw both of the hands of the man in the back seat but could not tell if his hands were tied. He said the man in the back seat had on a dark suit and a dark hat.

Never Seen Cars Before.

Keeton said that he had never seen either car before and did not hear reports of any guns. He said that he did not see the cars come back by his home, but later saw a truck going east and then some cars coming toward town. He said the truck arrived some twenty minutes after the first cars. He said that about two hours later he learned that a man had been killed, and that Ernest Folk had told him. State attorneys asked him several questions about roads in the vicinity of his house.

He said that there were several people about the body when he arrived, and named several of them, and said that he did not know whether the body had been moved or not. He was asked more questions about neighbors and roads.

The defense attorneys asked Keeton if he had not lived in Freestone county for a long time, and wished to see justice done according to the guilt or innocence of the defendants. Keeton said that he could not identify any of the men in the cars, and did not hear any guns.

On re-direct examination, he said that he had seen the Plymouth captured by officers and that it was the same color and had the same stripe on it that had been on the car he saw Tuesday.

Ranchman Is Witness.

Fuller Huckaby, ranchman, was the second witness of the night, and testified that he lived about 5 miles northeasht of Fairfield on the Young road, some 300 or 400 yards back from the road. He said that he went to see the body of a dead man found Tuesday morning, and that the body was about 400 yards on a direct line from his home.

Huckaby said that he heard some shots fired about sunup while he was feeding cattle; he said 3 or 4 were close together while the last came after a brief interval. He said that he owned a shotgun but could not tell whether the shots came from a pumpgun or an automatic. He also reported that he heard a car start up after the shots, and as far as he could tell there was only one car, but that he could not see the road because of some heavy timber.

Hole in Man's Head.

He said that it was twenty or thirty minutes later that he found that a man had been found dead, and was informed of the fact by Wallace McGuire who had come to use his telephone. He said that he went to the place where the body was found and that several men were there. He said that he looked at the wounds but did not examine the body, and that there was a large hole in the dead man's head, and a part of the left side of his head had been blown off. He also testified to seeing a part of a man's hat, and some hair on bushes across a ditch from the road, and also evidence where the bushes had been struck by a charge of shot. He said that there were five or six shotgun shells, apparently 12 or 16 guage, some six or seven feet away from the body.

He said that he had three children who attended school in Fairfield and that they were at home when the shots were fired. He said that he had lived on his place the greater part of his life. He said that he did not know the dead man. He was not cross-examined by the defense.

Wallace McGuire was then placed on the stand, and said that he lived on the Young road about 5 1-2 miles from Fairfield and about 3-4 of a mile from where the body was found. He said that he did not hear any shots Tuesday morning. He said that he was informed of the dead man by a truck driver who stopped to use his telephone to call the sheriff. He said that he drove to the spot where the body was and that there was no one else there, but did not stop, and went on to Huckaby's and called the sheriff. He said that he came back to the body in about ten minutes.

Tracks in Road.

He said that there were tracks in the road, which had been fresh graded, and that the body was about 8 or 10 feet from the ruts. He said that he did not examine the body but saw the wounds, and that his son was with him.

He said that he saw one car track slightly apart from the others, noticed the tread, and later examined the tread left by the captured sedan and that it was the same. He said that he saw no cars pass his house but that he heard some, and they were apparently traveling fast.

McGuire was questioned closely by the defense about the track seen in the road.

Heard Four Shots.

W. W. Moore was placed on the stand, and said that he lived about a mile and a half from Young's store and about 100 yards off the road. He said that early Tuesday morning he heard four shots fired rapidly, and one more shortly afterward.

He said that some 10 or fifteen minutes later he saw two cars pass along the road, a sedan first and then a coupe, driving fast, estimating their speed at 50 or 60 miles an hour. He said that the cars stopped near the front of his house, and he saw one man get out of the cars. He said that he saw the coupe stopped and that he did not see the man get in the car but the man disappeared.

After a short time the sedan passed back by the house, Moore said, but the coupe did not come back. He said that the sedan was the same car that had passed earlier. Later a truck. He said that the sedan was leading the coupe when passing his house, and that the coupe did not have a spare wheel on it.

Under questioning of the defense, he said that he learned of the dead man about 10:30, and that he was found about two miles from his house. In answer to defense questions he said that the sedan had more people in it when it came back then on its first trip.

When Daily, defense attorney, asked if the occupants were men or women, Moore inadvertently let "women" slip out before he could correct it hastily and the laugh from the crowded court room brought a reprimand from the judge.

Saw Two Cars.

Sterley Newman was the next witness, and said that he lived about 8 1-2 miles from Fairfield on Young road. He testified to seeing two cars, a sedan and a coupe, pass his house about 7:30 Tuesday morning, driving fast, and close together. He said that a truck coming from the direction of Fairfield was the next car to pass.

He said that the truck stopped and the driver told him about the dead man, and he went to where the body was found about 3 1-2 miles away. He said that he did not see either of the cars pass his house again.

Tells of Arrests

Newman testified that he is a constable and that he met Sheriff Sessions at the body and joined in the search for the cars, coming back to Fairfield and then going back on the Young road about six miles and turning off. He said that he arrested four men and a negro about 7 miles from the Young road, and pointed out the four defendants as the men whom he arrested. He said that the men were repairing a battery box and were outside the car.

He said that he and his companions called to the men that they were under arrest and to "come out with their hands up." Defense Attorney Daily raised strenuous and continued objections to what the men said when they were arrested, and after the objection was overruled another laugh swept the courtroom when it developed that the men had remained silent.

On cross-examination, Daily attempted to impeach the testimony of the witness because he was not sure of the color of the sedan. He said that no guns were found on the men when arrested.

On further direct examination, Newman testified that he continued in the search for another car and found a black coupe abandoned about two and a half miles southeast of Young, and that the car was brought back to Fairfield.

After a series of questions, Judge Smith reprimanded Attorney Daily for excessive facetiousness.

Allen MnIntyre was the next witness, and testified that he lived on the Young-Fairfield road about six miles from town, and that his house was about 40 yards off the road. He said that Tuesday morning he saw the body of the dead man, and saw two cars pass his house, a blue sedan and a black coupe, with the sedan in the lead, traveling about 60 miles an hour.

Heard Several Shots.

He said that there were two men in the sedan both seated in front, and two men in the coupe. He said the next car to pass along was the grocery company truck. He testified that he heard several shots early in the morning, several shots being fired together and some at intervals. He said that it was about ten minutes after the shots were heard that the cars passed along. He said that he did not see the cars again.

He said that it was about twenty minutes before the truck passed along. He said that it was 25 or 30 minutes later that he learned that a man had been killed. He said that he had never seen the men before nor the cars.

J. E. Lott on Stand.

J. E. Lott, justice of peace for precinct 1, of Freestone county, was the last witness at the night session, and testified that he had been called to view a body about 8:30 on January 24, that he examined the body and found that death had resulted from gunshot wounds. He said that he examined the clothing of the dead man and that on the breast the cloth had been mangled by shot. He said that the dead man's skull had been badly mangled on the left side. He also said that one or two buttons of the man's trousers were found unbuttoned. He said that he reached the body about 9 o'clock and that the body had not become stiff. He said that he saw the man's hat. Lott testified that he did not see any shotgun shells because the sheriff had been to the scene and gathered up the shells.

Judge Smith then recessed the hearing until 9 o'clock Saturday morning.

Governments Germany and France Fall After Duration of Few Weeks

VON SCHLEICHER FINDS HE DOES NOT HAVE OFFICIAL BACKING

By LOUIS P. LOCHNER,
Associated Press Correspondent.

BERLIN, Jan. 28.—(AP)—Chancellor Kurt Von Schleicher, heading the 20th cabinet since the establishment of the German republic, resigned today after governing only 56 days.

This period was shorter than that of any predecessor except the last imperial chancelor, Prince Max Von Baden, who lasted 30 days when the revolution swept him into the discard.

General Von Schleicher realized from President Paul Von Hindenburg's refusal to invest him with power to dissolve the Reichstag next Tuesday that he no longer enjoyed the confidence necessary to steer the ship of state solely on the President's authority in the face of a hostile Reichstag.

The resignation of the entire Von Schleicher cabinet was accepted by the President after he had refused the chancellor's request. Baron Franz Von Papen, preceding chancellor, was charged to report on whether a cabinet could be formed on a parliamentary majority or other bases, if the majority was unobtainable.

General Von Schleicher seemed to have started auspiciously as chancellor with an address in which he proclaimed social justice as the cardinal aim of his government and made promises to virtually every calling, trade and industry.

His conviction that his policy was creating an atmosphere of peace and quiet and was successful was strengthened by the absence of violence during the Christmas season.

Soon after new year, however, political clashes resumed with great acerbity.

Blamed in Hitler Failure.

The National Socialists, rightly or wrongly, made him responsible for President Von Hindenburg's failure to appoint Adolf Hitler as chancellor. The Nationalists, mainstays of the Von Papen regime, opposed Chancellor Von Schleicher's program for dividing big eastern estates into small settlements. Industrialists charged him with choking exports by "kowtowing" too much to agriculture. Centrists were filled with resentment at his toppling over Chancellor Heinrich Von Bruening and his cabinet last spring. Socialists and Communists fought him because they regarded him as reactionary.

Thus Von Schleicher suddenly found he had even less support than had Baron Von Papen. He therefore staked his hopes on Hindenburg's investing him with powers to rid himself of the Reichstag.

The chancellor apparently overlooked that Baron Von Papen's personal relations with the President continued to be most cordial and that the Nazis and Nationalists were constantly working both to arrive at an agreement between themselves and, through emissaries, to undermine the President's confidence in the chancellor.

Various metropolitan dailies forecasting the chancellor's downfall openly, stated this morning that Von Schleicher who was famous as "unmaker of cabinets," fell victim to the same methods he employed against others.

President Von Hindenburg, it became known, impressed upon Colonel Von Papen that what he wants most of all was a cabiet strictly in accordance with the constitution whose authority will rest upon co-operation of the Reighstag.

All the signs indicated that either the colonel or Adolf Hitler would be the next chancellor.

Hitler will have the call if he can guarantee a stable government with support of the nationalists and at least toleration by the centralists, which would give him a majority in the Reichstag.

If he should remain unwilling to play with the other parties, or if the centrists should refuse even a benevolent neutrality the post probably would go to Colonel Von Papen. If Von Papen should get the job he probably would be invested with dictatorial powers such as no previous chancellor has had.

TAXATION ISSUE COST PAUL-BONCOUR PREMIERSHIP OF FRANCE TODAY

PARIS, Jan. 28. (AP)—The government headed by the veteran fighter, Joseph Paul-Boncour, resigned today a few hours after being overthrown on a taxation issue by a boisterous, shouting chamber of deputies.

The Paul-Boncour cabinet fell at dawn, fighting for a balanced budget, with former Premier Edouard Herriot vainly trying to rally support. The vote was 390 to 193.

The fall of the 40-day-old government, Finance Minister Henri Cheron said, would cost the country $50,000 an hour and on Tuesday Paul-Boncour, who will carry on current business, or his successor, must ask for February credits on the bais of a million and a quarter dollars daily deficit.

President LeBrun summoned the presidents of the senate and chamber, Leon Blum, leader of the socialist party which caused the overthrow, Herriot, and other leaders for consultations.

The 59-year-old premier, who had been war minister under his predecessor, Edouard Herriot, lost his post because the party with which he formerly was affiliated, the socialists, deserted him.

They broke up the radical socialist and socialist combination which had sustained his cabinet as well as that of Herriot for six months by refusing to accept a 5 per cent increase in income and other general taxes.

Edouard Daladier and Camille Chatemps, ministers under both Herriot and Paul-Boncour, and Jules Peaneneny, president of the senate, were considered likely to be called upon by President LeBrun to form a new government.

Great Confusion.

The chamber was packed and in great confusion when Paul-Boncour, as famous an orator as Herriot, rose to stress the opinion of the cabinet that the tax increase was essential.

"That is why I ask the majority—will it accept or ask other men to submit other solutions" he shouted. The socialists greeted his appeal with icy silence.

This was the conclusive indication of the result of the vote which was soon to follow and nullify a week's work by Finance Minister Henry Cheron to unite factions behind the program.

The chamber finance committee a few days beore had cut the government's budget project, which called for 10,000,000,000 francs in new taxes and economics, to 2,530,000 in new taxes and $15,000,000 francs in economies. Finance Minister Cheron was dissatisfied and sought restoration of the original budget program.

United States Is Watching Closely

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—(AP)—A new twist was injected today into the perplexing war debts tangle by the downfall of Joseph Paul-Boncour's French cabinet.

News of the prime minister's defeat on fiscal policies was scanned closely in official Washington where preparations were going forward for debts negotiations with those foreign nations that paid up in December.

France was not one of these. The previous French cabinet headed by Premier Herriot fell on the debts question and the $20,000,000 interest payment due last December went unpaid.

But the French default has not been considered as such by President-elect Roosevelt who has signified his willingness to hear the pleas of all countries—there were six of them—that met the December installments.

He takes the French non-payment more in the nature of a deferment and the belief has been widely held that if France makes a settlement it, too, will be in a privileged class for new discussions.

Speculation was immediately started as to who would succeed Paul-Boncour. The choice was held here to be one which would give some indication of the immediate future course of France in moving for debts revision.

CONGRESSMEN ARE OFFERED ASSISTANCE BY LEGISLATURE

AUSTIN, Jan. 27.—(AP)—Resolutions proposed in the house of representatives of the legislature designed to express this state's will for guidance in solving some of the problems confronting the nation were referred to committees for further consideration.

One concerned the settlement of war debts, and proposed endorsement of a plan evolved by President-elect Franklin D. Roosevelt devised to secure trade advantages with other nations and to bring about tariff reductions.

Another petitioned congress to enact some kind of measure to increase the value of money and the medium of exchange. It also urged legislation that "would secure in some way" deposits placed in National banks, proposed stricter immigration laws and a stringent anti-nepotism statute.

The house decided to work this afternoon in order to clear the speaker's desk of pending legislation after Speaker Coke Stevenson made a brief address to the membership in which he stated it was his desire that the house keep up with its calendar. The senate adjourned over the week-end.

Several bills were pending, including a bill to further straighten out the difficulties involving a special election to fill the prospective vacancy in the 15th congressional district, caused by the resignation from the post of John Garner, vice-president-elect. The bill would shorten the time in which absentee votes could be cast from 20 to 10 days.

STATE INCOME TAX BILL INTRODUCED IN HOUSE ON FRIDAY

WOULL LEVY TAX OF ONE TO SEVEN PER CENT ON INDIVIDUAL INCOMES

AUSTIN, Jan. 27.—(AP)—A bill to levy an income tax of from one to seven per cent on the incomes of individuals and from two to six per cent on the incomes of corporations was introduced in the house of the Texas legislature today by Representative Sarah Hughes of Dallas

The bill was designed to raise sufficient revenue to offset the loss in state income caused by exemption of homesteads from state ad valorem taxation to the extent of $3,000. It was drafted along the lines of the Wisconsin state income tax law.

The following graduated scale was provided for individual incomes: One per cent on the first $1,000; one and one-quarter per cent on the second $1,000; one and one-half per cent on the third $1,000; two per cent on the fourth $1,000; two and one-half per cent on the fifth $1,000; three per cent on the sixth $1,000; three and one-half per cent on the seventh $1,000; four per cent on the eighth $1,000; four and one-half per cent on the ninth $1,000; five per cent on the tenth $1,000; six per cent on the eleventh $1,000; and seven per cent in excess of $11,000.

The income tax on corporations would start at two per cent on $1,000 and reach a maximum of 6 per cent at $6,000 and above.

Bill to Abolish State Commission

AUSTIN, Jan. 27.—(AP)—A bill to abolish the game, fish and oyster commission and vest control over the game department in a commissioner appointed by the governor, was offered in the Texas house of representatives today by Representative W. E. Pope or Corpus Christi.

The proposed measure was generally regarded as another of the administration bills to give the governor's office more control over administrative state departments. Employes would be appointed by the game commissioner with the approval of the governor.

A proposed constitutional amendment was introduced by Representatives P. L. Anderson of San Antonio, and W. E. Jones of Jourdanton. It proposed to fix the interest rate on contractional obligations at eight per cent and at five per cent in instances where no interest rate had been agreed upon.

A congressional redistricting bill which would give Bexar county, East Texas and the Panhandle new congressional districts was introduced by Representative Gordon Burns of Huntsville.

Representative W. M. Harman of Waco, chairman of the house appropriations committee, offered a bill to reduce the salaries of the judiciary in conformity with the salary schedules fixed by the committee district judges would receive $4,000 annually; judges of the courts of civil appeals, $5,000 and supreme court and court of riminal appeals judges and commissioners would receive $6,000.

A bill to withdraw all lands of the public free school fund from the market was introduced by Representative Harlee Morrison of Terrell.

Other bills introduced had for their purpose:

To vest title in lands where a person has enjoyed peaceable and uninterrupted occupancy for 25 years.

To permit only tax paying property owners to vote in bond issue elections.

To prevent taking of deficiency judgments where property sold to satisfy a mortgage or lien does not sell for an amount sufficient to satisfy the obligation.

Foreign Lobby Is Asked to Desist

AUSTIN, Jan. 27.—(AP)—The Texas house of representatives today passed a resolution requesting certain out of state influences to "cease activities in Texas" with reference to urging enactment of certain prohibition liberalization laws pending before the legislature.

The resolution referred to activities of "a Texas financial agent of the Crusaders, a foreign organization operated by remote control from Cleveland, Ohio."

P. L. Anderson of San Antonio, author of bills to legalize the sale of certain liquors in Texas, sponsored the resolution, he said, because the organization referred to was collecting money with which to finance passage of the pending legislation.

The resolution was apopted by a ten-vote margin—63 to 53—after Representative H. H. Ray of Troy and others spoke against its passage. They contended that lobbying was permitted in the interest of other legislation and that a rule should not be invoked against any class.

Texas Merchants Discuss Sales Tax

AUSTIN, Jan. 27.—(AP)—Texas merchants gathered here today to discuss what features they believed should be included in a sales tax in event legislators should decide that such a tax was necessary.

Some of the merchants were outspoken in opposition to a sales tax. They contended that the "ordinary poor man" already was taxed more in proportion than anyone else and that the proposed three per cent sales tax simply would take three more cents out of his dollar.

Representative Harold Kayton of San Antonio, who plans to offer a sales tax bill later in the session, argued that many people now were escaping taxation and that the sales tax would reach them. F. E. Morris of Dallas replied that nearly every family paying taxes. He pointed to license fees and gasoline which automobile owners pay.

The meeting was called Grasso of San Antonio of the legislative committee Texas retail merchants' tion. J. R. Chilton, Jr., as, president of the ass was among those in attend

WHEN?

When will Washington awake to the fact that the country is in a state of economic collapse, financial deflation and corporate and individual bankruptcy? When will the politicians and jobholders in the national capital, who seem never to have heard of the depression, learn that the reason the federal government is going into the red to the tune of two billion a year is because the tax burden is greater than the public can bear?

Above the cries of the multitudes and business for government economy and retrenchment and tax relief was heard the other day the confident proposal of the United States commissioner of education that a manufacturers' sales tax be levied on the people to add a federal department of education to the already superabundance of departments, bureaus, commissions and jobs. With the whole nation clamoring for fewer departments and jobs and fewer and smaller appropriations he clamors for more departments, more jobs and more appropriations.

TOO MUCH OIL.

Should the courts succeed this winter in kicking the oil industry out from under the iron heel of military rule in the great oil producing states, the United States will be covered with the greatest flood of crude oil in history. Should this restive giant again break its bounds, it will mean chaos to this industry, one of the first 10 in importance and the one which has best withstood the tide of depression.

Governor Murray, of Oklahoma, and former Governor Sterling, of Texas, stretched the law when they undertook to enforce proration with the militia but they accomplished their purpose. Ruinous overproduction was stopped and a semblance of prosperity was restored to the oil fields.

Discontinuance of proration now would produce a situation more tense than that which existed before proration went into effect because of the recent discovery of the greatest new flush production pools in history. Merely the threat of returning to old conditions has forced down oil prices in the last few days.

If proration is to be continued, and oil men generally agree that it must be if the oil producers are not to be forced out of business by the flush production fields, it is now believed that some sort of a super-state agency must be set up to balance production and consumption. Therein lies the salvation of the oil industry.

Every state has a stake in this game of oil, both as consumer and as producer either of oil or of things needed by the oil people.

JUST FOLKS

(Copyright, 1932, Edgar A. Guest.)

ONE KINDLY DEED

He went his way and never knew
How much this world had thrilled him through,
He'd merely stopped upon the street.
To buy a newspoy's printed sheet
And something put it in his mind
That day to be a little kind.

"My boy, 'tis cold you look," said he.
"Your ears are red as they can be.
Just step in here, you bright-eyed chap,
I'll buy for you a winter cap,
And since all day you tread the street
I'll put new rubbers on your feet."

He never knew just why the whim
For such a kindness came to him,
But he was happy for the day
And whistling went upon his way;
Took train for home and never guessed
What seed he'd planted in a breast.

Day after day, year after year,
Watched one for him to re-appear.
The boy to manhood grown still scanned
The faces of the public, and
Cherished the hope that ere life's end
He'd meet once more his kindly friend.

They never met. But in his name
That boy when he a man become
On many a blustery winter day
Gave caps and overshoes away
In memory of the passing whim
Of one who'd been so kind to him.

GROUNDHOG'S JOB.

One fears that Bre'r Groundhog will have a lot of sympathy for President Hoover and some other politicians after February 2. He is due to learn that this is a time when promises are hard to keep.

Normally, Prophet Groundhog can see his shadow or not see it and know his prediction of six more weeks of winter or an early spring will come to pass as per schedule in some sections of this great but, at this moment, climatically uncertain land. But all weather predictions fail this year. Even nature missed bets she never lost before.

When it snows in Southern California and the trees blossom in Pennsylvania in January, Forecaster Groundhog, if he is as wise as he professes, will stay in his hole on February 2 and let winter and spring fight it out themselves. Any attempt at forecasting this year will be at the risk of his reputation.

Should the groundhog have more winter under his shadow let him rush it along before the blossoming fruit trees, in regions where May is the normal budding season, bring forth buds to have them nipped by pursuing freezes and frosts.

These are parlous days for goosebone prophets and almanac compilers. They will be a long time explaining their "misses by a mile" in the winter of 1932-33.

DANGER IN TIRES

It has been pretty difinite-established that the rear right tire is the first to wear out, the rear left next, the front right next and the front left last of all.

As a result, practice has become almost general to shift the worn out rear tires to the front wheels with the idea of evening up the wear.

This, however, is dangerous. When a worn tire blows out on a rear wheel, while the car is traveling at a high rate of speed, the driver still has enough control of the front wheels to guide the car safely out of a dangerous skid.

When, however a front tire lets go, and the car is moving fast, there is almost nothing the driver can do. The steering is thrown out of his control, the car is forced into a serious skid and there is great possibility of injuries to all in the car.

Rather leave a worn out tire on a rear wheel, even though it will wea down so much faster, than risk the dangers that go with changing it to the front. For greater safety, however, a tire that shows the first mark of a tread worn down to the fabric should be taken off and used only as a spare.

Even as a spare, it should be in use only enough to get a good replacement.

The fact that one is a taxpayer in name only this year does not deprive him of the inalienable right to kick about the high taxes.

It doesn't require a great deal of inventive genius for a man to make a fool of himself.

SHADES OF SUMPTER!

Although the North Dakota state senator, who introduced a resolution proposing that thirty-nine states secede from the union leaving the stripes in the flag to the nine eastern "financial states," may have been absolutely sincere and though his resolution may reflect some sentiment in certain quarters, no one took him seriously, and the public reaction to it was the opposite of that hoped for.

This politician from the plains no doubt believes that his nine "financial states"—New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Maine, Massachusetts, Connecticut, New Hampshire, Vermont and Rhode Island—did rob the other 39 helpless states and then left them like foundlings to die of exposure and starvation. He would rather for reasons of personal and civic pride, admit that he and his 39 states had been flimflammed than admit that they had got themselves into the present mess.

Sectional agitation of this sort serves no useful purpose. No informed Dakotan believes that his state has been a pawn in the hands of scheming easterners, but rather takes pride in the fact that his state has often received from the federal government more than it has given it in taxes and that it has sold the "financial states" more than it has purchased from them.

Uncle Sam has been able to play Santa Claus to some of the smaller states because he has been able to levy heavily upon the half dozen or more states which pay the bulk of the federal tax bill and come out at the short end in the distribution of the benefits.

UNIMPORTANCE OF POLITICS

Everybody wants to believe that the turning point in the depression has been reached. The nation is eager to be convinced but only something tangible will carry conviction, so numerous have been the false promises of succor.

This situation works both ways. While the public has grown skeptical the industrial, financial and political leaders and observers have grown cautious. Early in the depression they could produce prosperity predictions as readily as a magician can pull rabbits from a hat. Of late they have been loath to look into the future and hestitate about basing anything on the present.

For these reasons the recent public utterances of Col. Leonard P. Ayres, economist and banker, are of some significance. Especially important is his observations that there has been improvement in the financial and morale factors since a year ago.

His sage advice to the country is that it grapple with realities, be vigilant and co-operate to the fullest.

In decided contrast to attitude of the relief lobbies is the Ayres viewpoint. Enumerating the three factors which probably will shape the economic welfare of the nation this year he names "financial conditions, business conditions and national morale" and does not so much as mention politics or congress.

Yet many men have missed fame solely because they had names hard to remember.

A Chicago woman has listed her dog in the telephone directory. One more to bark at Central.

"A tornado can travel as slowly as 10 miles an hour." so can a speed maniac, but he never does.

Yet normal, well people couldn't stay gloomy very long if there were no stock market reports.

It is easy to mistake ignorance for a good disposition.

A fool and his equilibrium are soon parted.

The only fool like an old fool is a young one.

AGRICULTURISTS WORLD OVER FACING SAME TROUBLES U. S. FARMERS ARE NOW FACING

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—(AP)—In their misery deriving partly from tax and mortgage burdens, American farmers have plenty of company abroad.

Troubles like these—arising from low prices, overproduction, credit conditions, and debt payments in recently deflated currency—harrass agriculturalists in Spain, France, Japan, Germany, Canada and other countries.

Strangely enough, the underproduction of forage crops bothers Ireland; speculation in the wheat market caused governmental concern in France not long ago; the Spanish minister of agriculture had his worries when wheat imports were too small.

Then there are other difficulties peculiar to individual nations: Russia has too many non-workers on farms that can't easily be persuaded to work in mines and factories; imports of meat, particularly from South America, to England under the Ottawa trade agreements present a neat problem to the British; Premier Mussolini's government is trying to return 100,000 Italians to the soil.

In all these problems, as in the United States, governments of the respective nations have been asked to lend a hand—and money, legal restrictions, supervision, regulation.

There are other counterparts, too, in recent and ancient history, between the American farmers' plight and suggested remedies and the agricultural scene in other lands.

In Argentina, for example, farmers in the rich province of Santa Fe (a leader in that nation's production of corn, wheat and linseed) threaten to start a "strike" unless the government accedes to certain demands.

These include lowering land rentals to a level the farmers think is in keeping wiht returns; stabilizing corn prices at 32.6 cents a bushel or government storage of grain until "satisfactory" prices are obtained; reducing land evaluations for taxation, and lowering freight rates.

That the provincial government issue scrip as a step towards revising the currency system has been asked by the United Farmers of Alberta, Canada.

Precedent for the proposal was found in pioneer days and in recent use of scrip in at least one Alberta community—Raymond — and in several towns and cities in the United States.

Unrest among Japanese peasants has been great because prices for rice have been far too low. The government is seeing what it can do about it.

Recently 53,000 wheat farmers in Great Britain received about $4,375,000 in advances as "deficiency payments" for millable wheat—another payment is anticipated. This represents the difference between the average market price and the standardizd price of 10 shillings a hundredweight.

PLANTING TIME IS HERE

Tree planting time is here for all Texas except West Texas and the Panhandle country, where the winter months are unusually dry and the roots of trees have a tendency to dry out before spring rains arrive. General rains throughout East, Central and South Texas during the past few weeks have made conditions ideal for winter planting of trees and with care given the species to plant, their planting and attention given them after planting, success is assured. Unless one desires to experiment with an exotic tree, he should observe what is growing successfully in his vicinity, since there is more assurance of success by planting those species that have proven their adaptability to the locality. In practically every section of the State many native as well as adapted plants, can be found available for beautifying the home grounds.

Too much stress cannot be laid on the care of the tree after planting. A few suggestions that will insure successful planting of trees are: Plant adapted trees; plant small trees; plant during the proper season; plant vigorous healthy trees with good root systems; keep roots moist before planting; plant in pulverized fertile soil; cultivate and water the trees every ten days during the growing season for the first two years; protect trees from insects and fungus attacks by spraying.

TWO MEN AND WOMAN SOUGHT AFTER RHOME DEPUTY SHOT DEATH

TRIO ARRESTED AND TAKEN OFFICE BY OFFICER WHERE SLAYING OCCURRED

RHOME, Jan. 27.—(AP)—Two men and a woman, armed with a machine gun, killed Joe Brown, 47, Deputy Sheriff and barber, and fled toward Fort Worth on Highway No. 2 shortly after noon today.

Several squads of police and deputy sheriffs from Fort Worth and Dallas watched highways in an effort to prevent their escape.

Brown was killed in his office, which adjoins his shop, after he had arrested the trio on instructions of the Wise County sheriff's offce at Decatur. They were suspected of stealing some oil in Decatur.

After stopping the car on the highway at the edge of Rhome, Brown took the suspects to his office, leaving their car parked in front. A machine gun was in the rear of the machine. The officer turned, presumably to telephone the sheriff at Decatur.

One of the trio drew a gun and fired five or six shots into the officer's body. The three ran to their car, brushing aside several bystanders and drove rapidly away in the direction of Fort Worth.

Bystanders, attracted to Brown's office by the shots, discovered his body.

The men were described as being young and small of stature and the woman large. They were traveling in a light sedan with a license number from Maryland, Missouri, Maine or Michigan. Observers noticed that the license was from some state beginning with "M."

Brown was a native of Rhome and for several years had held a special deputy's commission. At the sheriff's office in Decatur it was said that Brown had not yet renewed his commission for 1933.

Officers Start Search.

DALAS, Jan. 27.—(AP)—Several automobile loads of policemen armed with rifles, riot guns and gas bombs left here for Roanoke today immediately after word of the shooting of Joe Brown, a Rhome deputy was received here.

The opinion was expressed that the slayers were the same ones who killed J. C. Moseley, Swisher county sheriff, at Tulia last week.

Brown's death was the third in the ranks of Sheriff's officers in Texas this month. Malcom Davis, a Fort Worth deputy, was slain at a West Dallas residence the night of Jan. 6. Brown and Moseley were slain by one of a group of three persons.

DALLAS, Jan. 27.—(AP)—Police here were informed today the license plate on a car in which three persons fled after Joe Brown a deputy sheriff, was killed at Rhome, appeared to be from Massachusetts.

One of the occupants was described as a small, young man of a very dark complexion and neatly dressed. The other was considerably older, weighing about 170 pounds. The woman was elderly and described as weighing about 200 pounds.

ADMINISTRATION OF VETERANS BUREAU ALLOWED HUGE SUM

ENTIRE SUPPLY BILL FOR INDEPENDENT OFFICES IS OVER BILLION DOLLARS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27. (AP)—Approving an increase of $18,039,000 in veterans expenditures next year and anticipating that something drastic will be done about the farm board by next December, the house appropriations committee today reported the billion dollar independent offices supply bill to the house for action.

It would allow $1,002,890,000 to run the many independent offices in the 1934 fiscal year. This total was said to be $1,657,000 under amounts asked by the budget.

The budget request of $966,838,634 for the veterans administration was allowed in full, although attempts to reduce the amount 10 per cent had been talked of.

This is $18,039,000 more than actually was appropriated for this purpose this year.

The committee proposed reappropriation of $500,000 for the farm board against the $1,000,000 asked, explaining its action in these words:

"In view of the present agitation for the abolition of the boar and of pending legislation respecting reorganization of the executive branch of the government, whereunder the president is given authority either to abolish any such independent establishment or to transfer and consolidate the same with any other part of the executive branch, the committee has decided to provide funds for the board's operation only to and including December 31, 1933, and has made $500,000 of unexpended balances available for that purpose. Before that date the congress will have ample opportunity to make such further provision for the board as the exigencies may require."

The only increase above the budget shown in the report was a $50,000 item for the White House. That money is to be available immediately to make alterations and build a swimming tank for President-elect Roosevelt.

A reduction in the total allowed the federal trade commission from $1,109,550 to $510,000 also was approved. The committee said it took this action because it "did not approve of the initiation of new economic investigations at this time."

The trade commission had asked enough money to study financial practices of corporations and the effects on business of anti-trust laws and selling under costs.

DIRECTORS LOCAL CHAMBER COMMERCE VOTED ON DEBTS

Members of the board of directors of the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce, acting as a committee of the whole studied Referendum No. 64 of the United States Chamber of Commerce on government debts and cast the ballot on the various proposals at a called session Friday morning.

It was the concensus of opinion that none of the debts should be lowered but they recommended that congress be asked to authorize the making the best deals possible with the debtor nations.

After some discussion the directors agreed that the chamber should act as the agency for the making of government seed and feed loans along the same lines as conducted last year. Applications will be received at the chamber within the near future, passed upon by a central county committee, and then forwarded to the state headquarters of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation division handling this type of loan.

It was announced that the annual chamber of commerce banquet had been postponed from February 14 to February 21.

STATE HOME LADS HONORED SATURDAY NIGHT AT BANQUET

A. A. ALLISON PRINCIPAL SPEAKER; LETTERS WERE AWARDED SEVENTEEN

Members of the State Home football squad, their hosts and guests were told that hard work, courage, honesty and fair play were requisites of the game of life as well as on the gridiron at the annual banquet given in honor of the football boys of the institution Saturday night by A. A. Allison, principal speaker of the evening. Letters were awarded seventeen members of the 1932 team.

Mr. Allison said that the touchdown was the goal of the game of football, and declared that the touchdown in the game of life should be the betterment of humanity.

In the discussion of his subject "The Touchdown", Mr. Allison enumerated the accomplishments of a number of the great men in the history of the world and particularly in America. George Washington's touchdown, he declared, was the establishment of a nation; Lincoln's was the saving of a nation; Woodrow Wilson's a better understanding among nations; Ferdinand Foch's the saving of a nation and perhaps the world from destruction during the world war, and Chas. Lindbergh's the crossing of the Atlantic ocean and cementing the friendships of nations for the United States.

Leadership Necessary

Mr. Allison said that perhaps there was some student of high school who was preparing himself for leadership, and that his goal might be the leading of labor from its bondage, or a reformation of the jurisprudence of the land by simplifying of its laws, doing away with the technicalities that are now bringing about inequalities in justice in the courts of the country.

For such leadership Mr. Allison declared that one must have a sense of fair play, honesty, a love for his fellowman and the courage to fight life's battles. Things that are worthwhile, he said, are not won easily and he declared that the opportunity for the advancement of humanity was as great now as it ever was.

In life, as on the football field, you will have to fight fair for the rules of the game make it imperative that you observe them, he declared.

Ending of War.

Among the many "touchdowns" or opportunities offered boys and girls of today mentioned by the speaker of the evening was that of ending war. Mr. Allison dwelt at length on that phase of his discussion and declared that somewhere a leader must be found who could lead nations to settle their differences without resorting to war.

The theme of the banquet Saturday night was "The Game of Life" and the program was arranged accordingly. Football was the subject and J. Stanford Halley superintendent was the referee and the time keeper was Allen Richardson.

Garner Clark and his orchestra furnished music for the occasion and "The Eyes of Texas" was sung by the assembly as the "kick off" or opening number.

Everett Mitchell, captain of the 1932 team discussed the first down; the forward pass was discussed by Co-Captain James Morris. Miss Geraldine Bannister, member of the pep squad, told of the meaning of the letter "T" and how it should be treasured by those who wore it.

J. Stanford Halley then introduced Mr. Allison as the principal speaker of the evening and announced his subject "The Touchdown."

FAIRFIELD, Jan. 30.—(Spl.)—Monday afternoon the Eagles went to Kirven and beat the Kings 28 to 15. Both teams played a good game, but when Ivy of Fairfield got started the Kirven boys were unable to stop him. ACES WON EASILY AGAINST BAPTIST QUINT OF KERENS

HIGH SCHOOL MELEE WAS HARD-FOUGHT AFFAIR SATURDAY NIGHT

Corsicana high school Tigers and the orsicana Y. M. C. A. Ace basketball clubs turned in victories over Sherman and the Kerens Baptists, respectively, in games staged at the junior high school gym Saturday evening.

The Tigers nosed out the Sherman Bearcats, 26-24, in a game that was as close as the score indicated and turned the trick by a great finish. The Aces were not pressed closely by the East Navarro cagers, and assumed a commanding lead early in the combat.

Tigers Led at Half

The two high school clubs battled on even terms during the first period with the score standing, 5-all at the end of the session. Phillips, big Tiger center, was the big show in the second quarter when he looped three field goals to send the Tigers into an 11-7 lead at the half-way mark.

Sherman rallied in the third stanza to lead, 20-16, at the end of the third period and Delahay, Finley, Price and Burks combined to register 10 points in the final session while the Bengal defense limited the invaders to one field goal and a couple of free shots. The outcome was in doubt until the final whistle.

Sherman has a fine ball club and the Tigers played their best game of the season. Sherman defeated the Tigers in an earlier contest staged in Sherman.

Phillips, Tiger center, was the leading scorer with eight points, while Guick, Sherman, guard, was second with seven points.

22 Fouls Called

A total of 22 fouls were called during the melee.

Sherman's defense was one of the best seen here this year, but the scrapping Bengals would not be denied and played a jam-up contest.

Both aggregations missed many shots, but were subjected to real defensive formations that made the scoring more difficult.

Aces Get Big Lead

The Aces forged ahead early in the contest and were leading the East Navarro quint, 13-0 at the end of the first quarter. The Aces led 21-6 at the half, and 30-12 at the three-quarter post.

Phillips, Kerens forward, set the scoring pace with 11 points, although he was closely pressed for honors by J. Harold Green, Ace center, who accounted for ten points.

The Kerens club is setting the pace in the Sunday school league fostered by the local Y. M. C. A. and is composed of several players who formerly played with the Rural Shade high school quint but was no match for the fast-stepping Aces, one of the leading Y. M. C. A. quints in Texas.

Local Daughters Confederacy Honor Heroes' Memories

Navarro Chapter U.D.C. presented a program Wednesday afternoon at the Navarro Hotel in memory of General Robert E. Lee, Stonewall Jackson and Matthew Fontaine Maury, whose birthdays are in January.

At a short business session the announcement was made of the death of a loved member of the chapter, Mrs. R. B. Campbell on Monday. The love and sympathy of the chapter goes out to the faithful daughter, Mrs. Nat Pinkston, also a member of Navarro Chapter. "One by one, life robs us of our treasures, nothing is our own, except our dead."

After an introduction by Mrs. H. F. Marr, Miss Lida Lea spoke on the dedication of the Maury portrait. Miss Lea was followed by Mrs. Emma Townsend, who spoke most feelingly on the character and accomplishments of Maury. The lives of both Andrew Jackson and Stonewall Jackson were given, the former by Mrs. C. E. King, the later by Mrs. Cora Johnson. Mrs. H. F. Soon after his graduation from Southwestern University and his admission to the bar, Mr. Tarver was elected a member of the lower house of the Texas legislature in 1909. He served there three terms, retiring to resume the practice of law. In 1919 he was elected prosecuting attorney of Navarro county, serving in that post for four years. City officers Sparks and Sheets answered the call.

Reed could not furnish a detailed description of his assailants, other than they were wearing overalls and caps, and that one of the negroes was considerably larger than the other.

Sentences Meted Out to Hidalgo County Evaders

AUSTIN, Jan. 28.—(AP)—Sam H. Hargrove of Mission, former Hidalgo county commissioner, today was sentenced to two years in the Chillicothe, Mo., federal penitentiary and fined $2500 for violation of the federal income tax laws.

Hargrove was one of three persons formerly active in Hidalgo county politics sentenced today by Federal Judge R. J. McMillan. Alex Champion, former chief deputy under the late Sheriff A. Y. The prison sentence was suspended on condition that Champion paid the fine.

GRINNING NEGRO ADMITS TO POLICE HE ATTACKED, MURDERED FIVE-YEAR-OLD BROOKLYN GIRL

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—(AP)— A gaudy pencil, whose red, blue and gold stripes coaxed six-year-old Helen Sterler, to horror and death in a Brooklyn cellar, forced a confession today from a young negro that he attacked and strangled her.

Lloyd Price, 22, sat grinning and smoking cigarettes in a police station before dawn today. Detectives had been questioning him for seven hours.

"Naw, Boss," he said for the hundredth time. "I wouldn't do a thing like that."

"But look at this pencil," a detective said softly. 'It was found in the cellar. Your mother's outside and she says it belonged to your dead father. She says it disappeared from her bureau drawer. two days ago.

"Is my mother out there?" the negro said, with a laugh. "Well, cap'n, I want to clear my conscience. Get some one in here who can write and I'll tell you about it."

The confession said that Wednesday afternoon he left his home and went out on the streets looking "for a child." It told how he approached Helen as she played on a sidewalk, showed her 25 cents and the pencil and "made her eyes brighten."

"I took her by the hand," he was quoted as saying, "and led her into a hallway. As I was carrying her down the cellar stairs, she started to struggle and I struck her in the face."

He carried the little form to a dark end of the cellar, the confession said, and assaulted her. She cried out, "Mamma, mamma" and grew still. Price said he lit a match, found a piece of clothesline, tied it about the girl's neck and crept away.

One hundred policemen, spurred by a frightened and furious populace in the dingy tenement district, ransacked the neighborhood for hours. Price was one of a number of suspects picked up. Police suspicions grew when they learned he had served two reformatory terms for attacks.

They said that in addition to the assault on the Sterler girl, he admitted attacking an 18-year-old negro girl several weeks ago. Helen was the fifth school girl to be attacked in the same neighborhood in less than two years. Three were killed, another seriously injured and the fifth beat off her assailant.

MIDWESTERN FARMERS STICK TO CAMPAIGN TO STOP SALES AS RESULT OF FORECLOSURES

DES MOINES, Ia., Jan. 27.—(AP)—With an estimated billion and a half dollars at stake in the form of mortgaged debt in nine states, Midwestern farmers today stuck with firmness to their campaign against foreclosure sales.

From Le Mars, Iowa, where the movement gained impetus several weeks ago to Idaho and Oklahoma, reverbrations were heard in the courts, governors' chambers and in continued gatherings of determined farmers.

Oklahoma, Idaho and Ohio farmers added their protests yesterday to that of Iowa, Minnesota, Nebraska, Wisconsin and the Dakotas. Census fgures for 1930, the latest available, listed the aggregate of mortgages on farms in these nine states at $1,530,081,408.

At Tulsa, Okla., three judges declared a virtual moratorium on mortgage defaut foreclosures until March 13. Their decision does not apply to contested cases.

Nampa, Idaho, formers demanded legislative relief and one spokesman threatened to get a "six shooter and four red-blooded men" to force legislation.

Eight hundred Ohio farmers at Bowling Green forced a finance company bidder to withdraw and bought $800 worth of property for $14, then returned it to the original owner.

In Iowa, Gov. Herring assured a group of Wapello county of his co-operation in delaying farm mortgage sales.

In Nebraska a Sarpa county sheriff prevented more than a score of bidders at a chattel mortgage foreclosure from obtaining goods for minimum prices by serving each with an injunction. Thereafter, the sale proceeded normally and average prices were obtained, the sheriff said.

ROOSEVELT PLANS CONCENTRATE ALL TRANSPORTATIONS

By FRANCIS M. STEPHENSON

WARM SPRINGS, Ga., Jan. 27. —(AP)—The new deal of President-elect Roosevelt for American government is beginning to unfold and is expected to be on the table promptly after he takes office March 4.

One of the cards in the stack already is in sight—organization of the multitude of sea, air and transportation duties of the government under one government authority.

Economy and efficiency is the purpose behind the plan to encompass these scattered agencies under one head. Railroads, inland waterways, commercial aviation, shipping and motor bus traffic are proposed to be grouped under a central government directorate.

Before turning today again to the agriculture problem, Mr. Roosevelt reviewed the transportation re-organization with William H. Woodin of New York, president of the American Car and Foundry company, who has been working with him on this set-up.

Arrival of Henry Morganthau, Jr., who has been the agent between the President-elect and congress on farm relief legislation, gave opportunity to go into the agricultural situation.

"Are you going to accept a cabinet post in the incoming administration?" Smith was asked by newspapermen.

"No, sir," Smith said.

Asked what part he expected to take in the incoming administration, Smith smiled and looked around at a crowd of reporters and said:

"That remains to be seen."

Asked about a report that Senator Copeland, (D., N. Y.), was to be appointed ambassador to Germany and that he (Smith) would be appointed senator from New York by Governor Lehman, Smith said:

"No. Well, at least half no. The half no applies to me," that is, I'm not going to accept a seat in the senate but I don't know what Senator Copeland is going to do."

Are you going to attend the inauguration March 4?" he was asked.

"I expect so."

Asked about a rumor that he might become head of the Reconstruction Corporation in the new administration, Smith said, "I am head of all the things I want to be right now."

Death Sentence Of Hilton Bybee Commuted Today

AUSTIN, Jan. 28.—(AP)—Governor Miriam A. Ferguson today commuted to life imprisonment the death sentence assessed Hilton Bybee of Cottle county for the robbery by firearms of Ernest Slape.

The announcement of the commutation was made by James E. Ferguson, husband of the governor.

Bybee was to have been electrocuted Monday.

Ferguson said the governor commuted Bybees' sentence owing to the youth of the convict. He is 21. The fact that no one was killed in the robbery also influenced the decision, Ferguson said.

"The governor was of the opinion that the state should not take a life where a life had not been taken," Ferguson stated.

Executive clemency had been recommended by Slape, by the members of the jury that convicted him and by peace officers, Ferguson said.

PARKS CONVICT[illegible] OF DROWNING W[illegible] IS GIVEN 25 YEA[illegible]

HAD BEEN CHARGED WIT[illegible] MURDER OF HIS WIFE FOR INSURANCE

SWEETWATER, Jan. 28. —(AP)—L. M. Parks, charged with murder in the drowning of his wife at a lake near here last summer, was found guilty by a jury in district court this morning and his punishment was fixed at 25 years in prison.

Parks contended at his examining trial that his wife fell into the lake accidentally.

The state this week, in constructing its circumstantial case against the defendant, attempted to show that he was able to swim. Parks had said he was unable to rescue his wife because he could not swim. Prosecuting attorneys also introduced pictures showing persons standing on a rock ledge protruding into the lake three and a half feet, at the point where Parks claimed Mrs. Parks fell into the water.

Testimony for the state was intended to show that the water was only a foot or two deep over the ledge.

Defense witnesses were put on the stand to show that Parks was a very poor swimmer.

Evidence to show that he had taken out insurance policies to the amount of $18,000 on his wife's life, with himself named beneficiary also was introduced by the state. Of this amount, $16,000 was said to have been taken out within 30 days of Mrs. Park's death.

Mrs. Fay Condit, a Sweetwater woman, was called by the state to testify concerning alleged relations with the defendant. She said she had been supported by him for some time.

Daughter Witness.

Near the start of the trial, Huttie Joe Parks, elder of two sisters left motherless when Mrs. Parks downed, related her version of the events surrounding the drowning. She told how she and her sister remained in their car near the place where the family had gone on a fishing expedition. When the girls heard splashing in the water, Huttie Joe said she and her sister went to the edge of the water. Their mother cried for help twice and they were taken back to the car while their fat[illegible] went for help.

CHARLIE DOUGLASS WOUNDED FRIDAY IN HIGHWAY SHOOTING

BROTHER OF MAN TRIED HERE FOR DEATH TEXANA HALL ALSO SHOT

ATHENS, Jan. 28.—(AP)—Charges of assault to murder were filed against Loyce Gregg, Robert January, Derlous January and Brown L. Hughes today in connection with the wounding of Charlie Douglass and Dewey Douglass on the Dallas highway. The men surrendered to Sheriff Sweeten yesterday.

Both the injured men were expected to recover.

The shooting was believed to have been an aftermath of the slaying of Davis January and Miss Texana Hall April 12, 1931. Charlie Douglass, whose case was reversed by a higher court some months ago after he had been sentenced to 23 years imprisonment for Miss Hall's death, was out on bonds of $4,000 and $5,000 in two cases.

Cars containing the Douglass men and the other four were believed to have met on the highway. Passersby found the former in a cotton field bleeding profusely from shotgun wounds in the abdomen.

Charlie Douglass faces indictments in two cases in the local district court for murder in connection with the fatal shooting of Miss Texana Hall, his sister-in-law, and Davis January, his son-in-law, in Henderson county. The cases were transferred to Navarro county on a change of venue. Davis January was the son of Robert January, one of the men charged with the shooting of the Douglass brothers Friday.

Douglass was released from the Navarro county jail several weeks ago, but had remained in Corsicana until this week, local officers said.

The trial of Douglass on the indictment for the slaying of Miss Hall is scheduled to come up in district court here Feb. 27.

Douglass' first trial here for the slaying of Miss Hall was interrupted as it neared completion when the defendant was found severely slashed in h's cell in the jail. He received 23 years on the next trial and the Court of Criminal Appeals recently reversed and remanded the case after Hawkins Scarborough, district judge, refused to grant a new trial. Two witnesses, Douglass' son and daughter, repudiated their testimony as given on the trial, on the formal motion for a new trial after the conviction of Douglass.

The accused man has not been arraigned for trial on the indictment for the slaying of Davis January.

PROFILES

you can keep your profile ng, you need never look very d. It is the sagging of the muscles under the chin which is not only spoils the profile by causing a double chin, but also gives drooping lines to the lower face, visible from the front.

Three methods are effective for keeping a young profile. Ice massage, hand message with cream, or slapping with a rubber face patter, or else strapping up the muscles. Try one, or try all three. You'll find one of the methods best suited to your purpose; stick to that until you have regained your lost profile.

For a double chin, due to fat let me suggest ice. Rub and rub and rub under the chin, and over every part which is distended by pockets of fat beneath the skin. The rubbing, and the intense cold of the ice, breaks up the fat, sends it through the blood stream to other parts of the body where it does less harm. The ice also makes the stretched skin shrink.

For a bad chin due to neglect or age, where there isn't much extra flesh to spoil the line, try slapping the chin with a rubber face patter. This brings up the circulation; the blood, flowing near the surface of the skin, brings new life with it. This stimulates the muscles too, and the whole result is to tighten up that line under the chin. A long line gives you beauty, but a smooth line will give you youth.

Use flesh building cream—merely because this smooths the skin and keeps fine wrinkles from forming. Use the patter to work this in, for the skin has a tendency to throw off everything, and no desire at all to absorb much. It takes work to get the skin to absorb cream, the patter is one way of doing it, and massage by hand is another. But hand massage under the chin is for a professional. You had better use the patter, rather than risk pulling and stretching the muscles.

Mrs. F. G. D.—An exercise to reduce the abdomen is as follows: Lie flat on floor, raise one leg very slowly until it is at rgiht angle with the body. Stiffen the knee joint so there is a complete pull on all the muscles at the lge, hip, and abdomen. Hold on instant, then lower the leg very slowly while the knee remains as straight as when the leg was raised. Try to maintain the slow movement until your leg reaches the floor, as you will be controlling al your movements while tensing the addominal muscles, really exercising them. Repeat the exercise by using th other leg, and follow it by lifting both legs at once and going through the same movements as when using each leg separately.

Tomorrow—More Diet Hints.

RELIEF FUNDS AND SALES TAX SUBJECT FERGUSON INTERVIEW

GOVERNOR BUSY DELVING INTO PRESSING MATTERS OF INTEREST TO STATE

AUSTIN, Jan. 28.—(AP)—Administration of relief funds under the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and other pressing state problems occupied the attention of Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson today.

In a conference with newspapermen, James E. Ferguson, husband of the governor, stated the governor had decided to leave administration of the relief funds to the appointees of former Gov. R. S. Sterling but that she had appointed three additional persons to aid in the work. Sterling had appointed the managers of the three regional chambers of commerce, Hubert Harrison of Longview, D. A. Bandeen of Stamford and Ray Leeman of San Antonio, to administer the fund.

Mrs. Ferguson appointed William Cameron of Waco, Harry Tom King of Abilene and Theodore Low of Brenham to aid the three chamber of commerce managers.

A meeting of the board will be held in Austin February 6 to discuss the applications for funds to carry on relief work during March and April, Ferguson stated. The applications now are being prepared.

Asked if the coming of warmer weather would have any effect toward diminishing the amount of the requests, Ferguson stated that "a man gets just as hungry on a warm day as he does on a cold one."

Ferguson said the policy of keeping the relief funds out of politics would be followed and stated his wife was well satisfied with the work accomplished by the men appointed by Sterling. The additional appointments were made to speed up the work, he said.

Appointment of H. P. Edwards of Dallas, a lawyer, to the office of state tax commissioner, was announced.

Sales Tax.

Ferguson discussed his proposed sales tax at length and also strongly expressed himself in favor of inflation of currency as a means of speedily ending the depressed economic condition.

He used a homely illustration of how deflation had worked and how inflation would cure the situation.

"Five years ago, we extended the loan on our family's Bosque county ranch," Ferguson stated. "At that time we figured we could pay out the loan at the current price of beef. But it developed that because of the deflation, it now requires four beef cattle to pay what one beef would have paid at the time we made the loan, owing to the restricted amount of money in circulation. If the currency is inflated it would put things back to the level of the time when the loan was made and one beef could pay off what it now requires four to pay."

Promise Good Enough.

Ferguson said the money would be issued by the government without bonds. "The promise of Uncle Sam is good enough," he stated. "If the money is backed by bonds, it just means that much more interest. I'd rather have fiat money and eat than gold money and starve."

There has been little opposition to the proposed sales tax from farmers, Ferguson said, asserting that this plan of taxation was the most fair to the poor man that could be levied. He said the average farmer who spent about $200 would pay a tax of about $6 a year, while the man who spent $5,000 would pay $150 in taxes.

Ferguson pointed out that the poor man who had a large family would get back many times his taxes through the per capita school apportionment and free text books for his children.

"The poor man is patriotic and has a large family," he stated. "The rich man who does not have a family ought to pay more."

The main objection to the sales tax, Ferguson said, is that it is "a tax." He indicated he would participate in legislative discussions of the proposed tax bills.

Wants Inflation.

Salaries would be increased immediately if the currency was inflated, he said.

"I want to inflate just as much as they have deflated," he stated. "We have been legally and officially hi-jacked by the deflators.

"If a person was afraid of the fiat money, he would pass it on and that would increase business and stop hoarding."

Ferguson expressed opposition to the income tax, stating there were no incomes now to tax.

He announced that the attorney general's department had ruled that the term of Cone Johnson of Tyler on the highway commission did not expire until Feb. 15. Ferguson indicated that the appointment of F. L. Denison of Temple would be submitted to the senate for confirmation as soon as Johnson's term expired.

He was asked what the position of the governor was concerning the oil situation.

"Why bring that up?" he answered. "We are busy with the troubles that we have and don't want to fly to those that we know not of."

STRIKE IN BODY PLANT CONTINUED IN FORCE MONDAY

NO SIGN MEN RETURNING TO WORK OR PLACES BEING FILLED AT NOON

DETROIT, Jan. 30.—(AP)— The deadline which the Briggs Manufacturing Co. set for the return of 6,000 striking employes passed at noon today—with no indication that the men, who walked out last week, would return immediately or that their positions would be filled today from the ranks of the unemployed.

The first violence of the five-day-old strike occurred this morning, when a group, reported by state police to be members of the picket lines severely beat Arthur Noblet, who they said tried to enter the employment gates of the company's Highland Park plant. State police forced the group back and took Noblet to a hospital.

Employment gates of the company's plants were thrown open to all applicants at noon. No lines formed, however, and pickets said by police to number 1,800 at the Mack avenue plant and 2,000 at the Highland Park plant, continued to march in the streets. Crowds gathered to watch, and were kept across the street by police. Ten demonstrators, whose names were withheld by police, were arrested at the Highland Park plant.

Although company officials declared from 200 to 400 men had returned to work, members of the strike committee issued a denial. The company officials stood firm in a refusal to deal further with the strikers, while the committee members said they would not return until the company met all their demands.

Meanwhile, no word came from the Ford Motor Company, whose plants were forced to close due to failure of the Briggs Company to supply bodies. Henry Ford Saturday indicated if the strike is not settled today or tomorrow, his company will prepare to manufacture its own bodies, if necessary, in order to get into production.

TWO WOMEN AND POLICEMAN SLAIN BY UNKNOWN KILLER

AUTHORITIES BELIEVED IT TO BE OUTBREAK PHILADELPHIA VICE WAR

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 27.—(AP)—Blazing pistols in the hands of a marksman-killer claimed the lives of two women and a policeman last night in what authorities said may have been the outbreak of a vice war.

In a darkened house near the center of the city, Mrs. Yetta Cooper, alias Cohen, alleged proprietress of a disorderly establishment, was shot through the head with a .45 calibre pistol and a young woman tentatively, identified as Patsy Miller was shot between the eyes.

A third woman in the house was slightly wounded.

In an exchange of shots with the slayer, as he fled through yards at the rear of the house, Patrolman Frederick J. Dolan was killed.

The slayer escaped amid a fusillade of shots from police who went to the scene.

More than a score of persons were rounded up for questioning soon after the slayings but no arrests were made. Among those detained was Ben Cooper, alias Cohen, husband of one of the dead women.

Outside the house, police found two heavy automatic pistols believed to have been discarded by the killer, but they were unable to locate Patrolman Dolan's weapon.

Addie Davis, negro maid, told police the man appeared at the door shortly before midnight. He was admitted and asked for Mrs. Cooper.

The woman evidently knew him, the maid said, and they talked together for a moment before he suddenly whipped out two pistols and began shooting.

Jones was the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Jones of Mart.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Gerber of Frost are in a hospital in Waxahachie suffering from injuries received in the wreck. The extent of their injuries had not been determined Monday morning.

CLASSIFICATION TALK HEARD TODAY BY ROTARY CLUB

An interesting classification talk upon the petroleum industry, by Fred Blucher made up Monday's luncheon program of the Rotary club at the Navarro Hotel. Lewis Eubank, of Hillsboro, was a visitor.

Next month's program chairmen were announced by President W. W. McClendon, and include Ted B. Ferguson, Joel C. Trimble, C. A. Middleton and R. C. Sizemore. Jimmie McCammon announced a district Rotary attendance contest that is in progress, and urged 100-per cent attendance at future meetings here

Opening his talk, Mr. Blucher pointed out that the petroleum ranks second in size to any industry in the world, and it surpassed only by agriculture. He gave a brief history of the oil industry, and declared it had its true inception in 1859 when the Drake well came in in Pennsylvania. The oil was distilled, and many products taken from it, Mr. Blucher averred.

The speaker went into considerable detail concerning the chemical make-up of gasoline, and told of the various kinds, how it is distilled, and prepared for commercial use. He said the distillation process is one where heat is applied to the crude oil, and the vapor is condensed, and the result is the various kinds and grades of oils, and other bi-products.

The history and chemical qualities of anti-knock gasolines were next told by the speaker. In closing Mr. Blucher explained a chart he had prepared, and showed the various uses of commercial petroleum products, their origin, and bi-products. His chart showed that bi-products of petroleum are used in the manufacture of practically every commodity and luxury.

An announcement concerning the negro community center entertainment at the Library Feb. 3 was made.

MARKET DRIFTED ON EVEN KEEL AT MONDAY SESSION

HITLER APPOINTMENTS DEPRESSED REICH BONDS; SPECULATION BROKEN

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—(AP)—The stock market leaned forward slightly in an extremely quiet session today. The closing tone was steady, with some advances of substantial fractions to more than a point, but the turnover was only about half a million shares.

By CLAUDE A. JAGGER.
Associated Press Financial Editor.

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—(AP)—The stock market drifted on an almost even keel today.

The list remained extremely sluggish, but rails showed a little firmness as the session wore on, and a somewhat easy tendency noted elsewhere in the list was soon overcome.

Norfolk and Western rose 1 1-2 points in a small turnover, and Delaware and Hudson and Canadian Picific, about a point. Union Pacific, off a little at the start, recovered. U. S. Steel common was steady, and the preferred, up a fraction. merican Telephone, off a major fraction in the early dealings, erased its loss before midday.

The formation of a Hitler cabinet in Germany temporarily depressed Reich bonds, and may have been a factor in the easy tone of the markets generally at the start.

The approach of U. S. Steel's quarterly directors' meeting for dividend action, slated for tomorrow afternoon, again acted as a brake upon speculative impulses in the market.

By JOHN L. COOLEY,
Associated Press Financial Writer.

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—(AP)—The curb droned through a perfunctory session today.

Electric Bond and Share was a narrow mover and most other utilities followed its example. Consolidated Gas of Baltimore, whose 1932 earnings showed as $4.29 a common share against $5.20 in 1931, was quiet, dipping fractionally on an early sale. Cities Service eased a shade and American Gas reacted slightly.

Industrials were dull. Novadel Agene moved up a bit but suhc issues as Swift and Company, Lake Shores Mines, Deere and Technicolor were virtually unchanged. Ford of Canada "A" sagged to around 6 where it was about half a point lower.

The oil group was quiet and steady.

PRORATION SUITS CONTINUED BEFORE THREE-JUDGE COURT

VALIDITY OF EAST TEXAS FIELD ORDERS TESTED IN FEDERAL COURT

HOUSTON, Jan. 30.—(AP)— The complainants in a broad attack on the validity of proration of production in the East Texas oil field offered the final testimony of their direct case today before a three-judge federal court in an effort to show the Texas railroa commission's orders restricting production in the field were confiscatory.

J. C. Wynn of the Ortiz Oil Company testified that under the production allowed his 20 wells by the commission, roughly 28 barrels per day per well, his company was losing more than $500 per day per well. The operating cost of each well, se said, was $895 per day and the company netted $367 a day for the oil produced from each well upon the basis of 50 cents per barrel.

The witness disgressed a moment incidentally, to say that while 50 cents per barrel was the price currently posted by most companies for East Texas crude some "today are paying 35 cents."

Prior to Wynn's testimony the complainants had introduced a group of affidavits by operators claiming that market outlets for oil far in excess of what they were permitted by the commission to produce were and had been available, and that the proration orders thus were arbitrary in setting a market demand figure of the commission's own.

Pioneer Wortham Minister's 79th Birthday Observed

WORTHAM, Jan. 30.—(Spl.)—A beautiful affair, and an important event in the social life of Wortham, was that of Wednesday at the home of Rev. and Mrs. G. W. Bounds, when open house was kept in celebration of Reverend Bounds' 79th birthday.

The honoree is an outstanding pioneer minister, and still active and prominent in his life chosen work. It has been in this city and community where he has labored largely, and here he is popular and beloved by scores of friends and relatives.

Hence, it was joy and happiness to all participants in Wednesday's hospitality.

A bountiful feast graced the table at the noon day dinner, and most attractive in decorations arranged by loving hands, Mr. Bounds' wife and his daughters. The birthday cake in artistic adornment was made by Mrs. Bounds. Besides the immediate family, and grandchildren enjoying this feature of the day were: Dr. and Mrs. K. W. Sneed, Rev. J. A. Wade, Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Boyd, Mrs. Lou Bounds, and Mrs. S. T. Bounds.

Rev. and Mrs. Bounds greeted their guests at the door, extending a most royal welcome to all friends calling to give greetings and congratulations, which courtesy radiated happiness and joy by this delightful fellowship.

Houses with Liverpool and Continental connections were sellers at the opening and the pressure proved sufficient to send prices down to 6.01 for March and 6.26 for July or about 9 to 11 points net lower. There was also some scattered southern selling but offerings were absorbed by covering and trade buying, and prices rallied 5 to 5 points from the lowest, March was holding around 6.04 at the end of the first half hour.

The market held steady later. There was not much selling pressure after initial offerings had been absorbed on further trade buying and covering. March sold up to 6.07 and July to 6.32, with the market at midday showing net declines of about 3 to 5 points.

The cotton market eased late in the day under increased southern selling, futures closing barely steady, 9-12 lower. Spot quiet; middling 6.10.

New Orleans Cotton Easier.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 30.—(AP)—Cotton opened easier in fairly good trading today. Liverpool came in considerably worse than due and first trades here were five to six points down. Private cables said the lower Liverpool was due to unfavorable political developments on the Continent. Cotton here continued to ease off after the start on hedge-selling and selling by ring traders. March declined to 6.01, May to 6.14 and July 6.25, or 8 to 9 points down from Saturday's close.

Near the end of the first hour the market was a shade steadier, rallying one to two points from the lows.

Following the moderate spurt of activity in the first hour, the market became quieter but prices gradually improved in sympathy with steadier stocks and due to a little short covering. Around noon, May traded up to 6.18, July to 6.30 and October to 6.48, or 4 to 5 points above the early lows, but still 4 points under the previous close.

At noon the market was quiet and steady, holding at the highs.

Grains Turn Downward.

CHICAGO, Jan. 30.—(AP)—Downturns predominated in grain values early today. The weakness was associated with uncertainties in financial and legislative circles and with 3,500,000 bushels increase of the amount of wheat on ocean passage.

Wheat closed firm 1-8-3-8 above Saturday's finish, corn unchanged to 1-8 lower, oats 1-8 down, and provisions unchanged to 5 cents decline.

GENE SARAZEN TO HEAD GOLFER LIST IN FOUR-BALL TILT

LEADING TITLE WINNERS ACCEPT INVITATIONS COMPETE FOR SMALLER PURSE

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 30.—(AP)—Gene Sarazen, British and American Open champion, heads the list of 32 of the country's outstanding professional golfers who plan to play in the classic international four-ball team match tournament here February 19-22.

The purse, previously $5,000, was cut this year to $2,600 but the committee in charge confined itsf invitations to—and received acceptances from—leading golfers who have won every major title in the past several years.

Big Ed Dudley of Augusta, Ga., co-winner of the 1932 four-ball, notified the committee he could not play this year because of pressing duties at his home club. His winning partner, however, Tommy Armour of Detroit, will enter the event.

Pairings of the 32 players into 16 teams will be made later. Play will be on a basis of the best ball on each hole.

Olin Dutra of Los Angeles, Metropolitan O. G. A. champion, sought for some time as an opponent for Sarazen in a special match, will cross the country for the classic. Others include:

Walter Hagen of Detroit, Paul Runyan of White Plains, N. Y., Willie Mcfarlane of Tuckahoe, N. Y., Craig Wood and Charlie Guest of Deal, N. J., Denny Shute of Cleveland, John Revolta of Menominee, Mich., Harry Cooper of Chicago, John Golden of Noroton, Conn., Johnny Farrell of Mamaroneck, N. Y., Cyril Walker of New York, and Horton Smith of Joylin, Mo.

Committee Needs $25 to Get Jackets Corsicana Tigers

The committee in charge of the drive for funds for the purchase of leather coats for the lettermen of Corsicana high football club, 1932 state champions, announced Monday morning that only $25.00 more was needed to purchase these tokens of appreciation from the fans.

Send in your subscription to Boyce Martin, treasurer, and have a part in the showing the boys that the fans of Corsicana appreciate the months of training and work the members of the club did in bringing Corsicana her first high school championship.

The committee has decided that the proposed watches for the coaches will not be purchased due to lack of funds, and $25. more to add to the $112. already received will be sufficient to purchase the jackets with monograms. Let's put this over at once so the tokens can be presented the Battling Bengals.

...RE COMMUNITY ...EN FOR NEGROES ...STARTED IN MEXIA

...IEXIA, Jan. 30.—(Spl.)—A 10-...re community garden for 100 unemployed negro families of Mexia has been started in the western edge of Mexia as an experiment. The officials said that President Hoover had not yet signed the bill authorizing the aid, and that it had not been made a law. A conference was held Saturday with E. M. A central committee to pass on the applications of the entire county will probably be named Tuesday by President Ted Ferguson of the chamber.

Officials also pointed out that no provision was made in the bill for paid employees to carry on the work.

INCOME TAX DON'TS

DON'T prepare your return without first studying the instructions on the form.

DON'T destroy the memoranda from which your return was prepared.

DON'T omit explanation when such information is essential to an intelligent audit. Attach memoranda to your return.

Your Income Tax

Number 1

HOW TO AVOID COMMON ERRORS

The period for the filing of income-tax returns covering the calendar year 1932 begins January 1 and ends at midnight of March 15. Within this period are filed annually millions of individual income-tax returns, a large proportion of which report income subject to the tax. The latter contain a considerable percentage of errors, which if uncorrected by the audit would result to the disadvantage of the taxpayer. Many are errors of computation easily discovered on the face of the return, which usually is accompanied by a payment of more than the amount of tax due. In other returns it is readily discernible that the taxpayer has failed to take advantage of the personal exemption, credit allowed for dependents, or deductions from gross income to which he is entitled.

To avoid these and other errors, the Bureau of Internal Revenue urges careful reading of the instructions on the forms for filing the returns. Additional information, if needed, may be obtained at the office of a collector of internal revenue, deputy collector, or an internal-revenue agent in charge. Also, as a further aid in the preparation of a correct income-tax return for the year 1932, the bureau has prepared a series of short newspaper articles, of which this is the first, advising the salaried man, wage earner, professional and business man, in fact, every class of individual taxpayer—of his requirements and privileges as interpreted under the latest regulations, rulings, and decisions relating to the income-tax law.

FREESTONE AND LEON OIL TESTS ATTRACT OPERATOR INTEREST

Two oil tests in Freestone and Leon counties are now occupying the attention of operators as a result of recent developments.

Considerable gas was reported Saturday in the Bassett and Suggs wildcat test on the Holly tract in the Keechi Creek sector between Buffalo and Oakwood and about 10 miles northeast of the Penn deep test. This test was reported down to 3800 feet late Friday.

The test was started last summer and carried down to 3720 feet where work was stopped about November 1. Operations were resumed recently, the hole cleaned out, and deepened. It is reported that the Pecan Gap structure was found at 1843 feet, and the bit entered the Austin chalk at 2705 and left it at 3105.

A string of five-inch casing has been set in the Penn Oil Company-Shell Petroleum Corporation —J. R. Black No. 1 Phillips in Leon county near Buffalo at 6142 feet, and it is expected that the plug will be drilled about Monday giving the operators a chance to make another test of the deep sand from 6146-57 feet.

Completion of this test will definitely inform the owners as to the source of the salt water encountered in a test of the hole several weeks ago.

It is reported authentically that the Shell is to start another wildcat test in that vicinity around February 1.

NURSES P. AND S. HOSPITAL RESIDE IN BUILDING NOW

Nurses at the P. and S. Hospital, county-maintained institution, are residing in the main hospital instead of the nurses home across the street at the present time.

The nurses home is owned by the county and is furnished, but has been closed and the upstairs quarters are being used by the nurses as an economic move, it was stated.
